

Honor Sanitary District Trustee

William Tuttle, Mokena Electrician Becomes Contractor

Will Tuttle, who resides at 134 Mokena st., Mokena, has embarked on a career as an electrical contractor and until he finds suitable shop and office space his home address will serve as his business address too.

Mr. Tuttle, who has been working as an electrician for the past 10 years, is a graduate of the DeForest School of Electronics. He has resided in Mokena for the past three years but has lived all his life in the area having been brought up on a farm between Mokena and Orland Park. His stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schmitt reside at Alpine, and his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lorenz live in Frankfort. The Tuttle's have three girls and a boy.

Tuttle is prepared to serve as a contractor for home, commercial or industrial electrical jobs, new work, remodeling or repairs. He has wired homes for several different general contractors and in Chicago he spent several years in heavy industrial electrical work including a long connection with Hot Point.

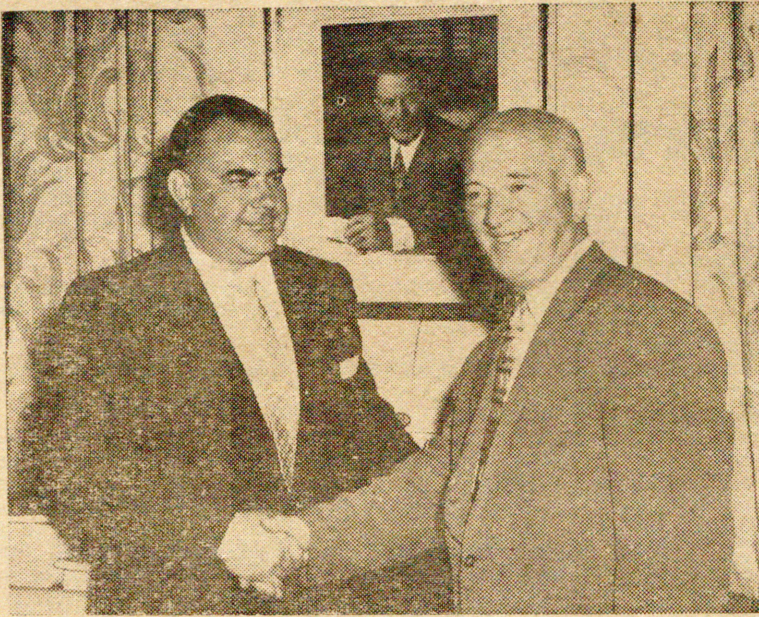

Experience and training qualify him for the business in which he has embarked, Tuttle pointed out.

William S. Nordburg (right) trustee, Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago, is publicly honored for his work as a Trustee of the Sanitary District in an announcement by Don R. Grimes, president, Independent Grocers' Alliance (IGA Stores) of the formation of a citizens committee of 150 civic, service and business leaders who will campaign for Trustee Nordburg's reelection. He is a Republican.

Trustee Nordburg has lived in Winnetka for over 35 years and is the only Sanitary District candidate on either ticket who lives in the suburbs.

timate of costs the results of the survey will be submitted to the people.

New Lenox not only will need a water and sewer system but it also will have to have a sewage treatment plant. New Lenox, Frankfort and Mokena are all charged with shunting some sewage into Hickory creek and the state health department says this has to cease.

Joliet is spending money now on a sewage treatment plant and also on an east side sewer system which is part of a flood control plan for Hickory creek. Joliet officials say their proposed east side sewer system will prevent sewage from that community passing into Hickory creek and they don't want any coming in from neighboring communities. The state has promised Joliet to cooperate with it in this regard.

Outlying communities are going to find it expensive to build sewer systems and sewage disposal plants but state health officers indicate that they will have the job to do whether it is expensive or not.

A Crystal Lake engineering firm, Baxter and Woodman, is to make the preliminary plans for New Lenox. A representative of the firm was at the meeting of the New Lenox village board last night. Formal beginning of the survey will depend upon the formal signing of an agreement between the village and the housing and home finance agency.

The money to be advanced to the village is a grant in the sense that in the event plans are completed and then are not put to use—that is to say the people should turn thumbs down on the proposed improvement—the federal government would not expect to be repaid. If the improvements are begun then the amount advanced by the government must be repaid. It would be taken out of the bond issue necessary to finance the project.

There is also a chance for communities that can qualify to obtain federal grants that can be used to pay a portion of the costs of sewage disposal plants. Such grants would not be loans.

New Lenox, Mokena and Frankfort are reported to be taking the necessary steps to determine if they can qualify for such grants.

Students May Enter State Competition

Illinois Industrial education students will have a chance to display their talent next April 12-13 at the Illinois State armory in Springfield when the Illinois Industrial Education clubs present their Student Project fair.

The fair, a state-wide exhibit and competition of industrial education student projects, will be open to all Illinois public and parochial students, grades 9-12, who are enrolled in industrial education courses.

Student projects may be entered in eight classifications: drawing, electrical, graphic arts, machine shop, general metals, wood, crafts and open. Prizes will consist of college scholarships, U. S. Savings Bonds, honorary pins and certificates.

In addition to prizes, the winners in each of sixteen divisions will have their projects sent free to the national judging of Ford Motor Company's Industrial Arts Awards competition in Dearborn, Michigan.

The Illinois Industrial Education clubs are the first U. S. student youth organization to sponsor a state-wide fair of this type. Other states have conducted fairs, but with adult supervision. The purpose of this fair has been described as a means of developing among high school youth a greater appreciation of craftsmanship and a greater interest in industrial education.

Nine Injured in 2-Car Collision

Nine persons were injured when two cars collided at the intersection of 167th and U. S. 45 last Sunday afternoon about 1 o'clock but not fatally. Carl Larson, 416 Cayuga st., Joliet, who was alone in his car was traveling east on 167th st. The driver of the other car, James Mallaney, Sr., of Kankakee, was going north on Rt. 45. Mallaney was accompanied by his wife, Dorothy, and their seven children. Larson suffered a compound fracture of the left arm, face, head and chest injuries. Mallaney and a daughter, Sue, 9, suffered severe head injuries. Mrs. Mallaney complained of back and leg injuries. Other members of the family suffered cut and bruises. All the injured were taken to St. Francis hospital, Blue Island in Southwest and Hickey ambulances.

Dennis Norton, Reckless Driver, Gets Jail Term

Beginning Monday, Oct. 15, Dennis Arthur Norton, of New Lenox will begin serving a 60-day sentence in the Will county jail as a result of his conviction last Tuesday in the county court where he pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving. He was also fined $300 and costs.

The charge grew out of an accident July 22 on Cedar road, about three miles south of New Lenox. Norton was driving at excessive speed, according to investigators, and lost control of the car. The vehicle left the pavement, rolled over several times and finally came to rest in a field.

Two passengers, Mrs. Delores Mork, of New Lenox, and Roger G. Mattson, of 1307 E. Jackson st., Joliet, were seriously injured. Norton apparently escaped injury.

Norton was arrested by sheriff's deputies and States Attorney Frank H. Masters, Jr. filed an information against him in county court. At the time Norton pleaded not guilty and the case was put over to a jury term. Records show Norton has been involved in a number of accidents and traffic violations.

Arraigned before County Judge John C. Cowing on Tuesday of this week, Norton pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving and his sentence followed.

Will Pick Winning Bike Safety Posters In Mokena Oct. 18

Winners in the bicycle safety poster contest sponsored by the Mokena PTA will be selected next Thursday, Oct. 18, it was announced at the meeting of the executive board following a meeting last week at the home of the unit's president, Mrs. George Bills.

Judges in the contest are Mrs. Herman Lorenz, Mrs. Albert Zemeske and Mrs. Leo Marcoux. Posters will be displayed then at school and in store windows.

The PTA has been conducting a campaign to teach safety to youngsters who ride bicycles and in conjunction with this show a film to the children at the Mokena public school next Tuesday, Oct. 16.

The PTA also announced that program books are ready and will be distributed to the children to take home to their parents.

Mokena Residents Donate $559 for Inhalator Purchase

A total of $559.45 has been collected in donations and has surpassed the amount required to buy an inhalator for the Mokena Fire dept.

The results of the drive for this much needed piece of equipment have been very gratifying.

The additional money received will be used towards the purchase of first aid stretchers and other necessary items. Donations are still being received at the Mokena bank or may be given to Erick Book, treasurer.

Thieves Take Cash Box at Midwest Store

State and county police in the Will-Cook area have an alert out for two fast moving sneak thieves who carried off a cash box from the Midwest Grocery on U. S. Route 30 at Lincoln Estates last Saturday afternoon. The box contained about $2,000 in checks and cash, mostly checks, according to the report at the Will county sheriff's office.

Ray Mankowski and his wife who operate the store were unable to tell deputies and state police how the thieves got the box. Mankowski said he was at the rear of the store. Mrs. Mankowski checked out the two men and then went to assist a customer.

Apparently the men grabbed the box from behind a counter and fled without anyone having noticed their actions. The pair had been gone several minutes before it was discovered that the cash box was missing, the report states.

The incident occurred about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The two men were described as being about 35 years old; one short and stocky, the other tall; one wore a mustache and drove off in a cream and green automobile.

Mankowski called state police at Blue Island. Sheriff's deputies from Will county and officers from the Joliet state police district joined the hunt.

According to the police report Mr. Mankowski said there was some money in the box but it contained mostly checks. He was unable to say how much money was taken, according to the report.

Will Honor Pastor, Wife

The congregation of St. John's Evangelical church, Mokena, are holding a get-together to be held in the church parlors at 8 p.m. Friday, October 12, to mark the 40th wedding anniversary of the Rev. and Mrs. William Riemann.

All church members and friends are invited to attend and further information may be obtained by calling Mokena 2582 or 2391.

The Rev. and Mrs. Riemann were married in Fairbault, Minn. where Mrs. Riemann's father was a minister.

They have one son, Dr. R. W. Riemann, of Ottawa, Ill., and two daughters, Miss Dorothy Riemann of Chicago, and Mrs. Robert Laurion, of Wisconsin Rapids. They have four grandsons and one granddaughter.

The Rev. Riemann was born in Missouri and has served churches in Chicago and Davis, Ill. before moving to Mokena.

Buy Right-of-Way For Road East of L-W High School

Acquisition of 200 feet more by the Will county highway department will complete the purchase of necessary right-of-way for a north and south road connecting U. S. 30 and Francis road that will permit Lincoln-Way high school busses to ply between the school and Mokena without using the Lincoln highway.

The road, when completed will be a mile and a half long and will be routed to use the underpass under the Rock Island tracks. In order to make use of this underpass the county has purchased a 100-foot strip, half a mile long, from Lincoln-Way high school, according to County Highway Engineer James McCarthy.

The property purchased from the high school totals approximately three and a half acres. The county paid the school district $4,300 for the land and some trees that will have to be removed.

The right-of-way yet to be purchased is land owned by Ray Powers.

Building the road will cost approximately $100,000, it was estimated, including a new bridge over Hickory creek, replacing the antiquated iron span that has broken down.

The road joins the Lincoln highway along the east boundary of Lincoln-Way high school grounds.

V.F.W. to Launch Flag Sale in Mokena Oct. 15

William Martin post, VFW of Mokena, will be selling flags next week.

Beginning next Monday night members of the post will make a door to door canvass of the Mokena area in an endeavor to get every home to have a flag.

According to Clarence Zugenbuehler, chairman of the flag sale committee, too many homes in the area fail to display the Colors on national holidays.

"We hope that every family in the community will buy a flag," Mr. Zugenbuehler said, "so that it can be displayed in front of every home on those occasions when the flag is flown."

Few stores handle flags of display size, Mr. Zugenbuehler explained, and that is one of the reasons responsible for the lack of display on holidays, he believes.

The flag to be sold by the VFW is 3 feet by 5 feet in dimension and is of fast colors, suitable for display out of doors. As sold by the VFW the flag is a part of a set, the other items being a jointed pole on which the flag is flown, a halyard and a metal bracket which may be at-

A contract has been let and continuation of the fine weather that has been the lot of this area will mean that work can be started this fall on the first phase improving Francis road between New Lenox and Mokena, a project that has been under consideration for many years.

When completed there will be a blacktop road, 34 feet wide, running from Gougar road, on the outskirts of Joliet, to Wolf road at Mokena, providing a shorter and safer route. It also will link with the newly paved road that leads directly to Tinley Park over 191st street, so there will be direct route between Tinley and Joliet.

The widening, grading and building of a base for the stretch between Gougar road and Cedar road in New Lenox was completed this year and if that section is not blacktopped in 1957 it is expected that it will be done in 1958, according to Will county highway officials. The blacktopping of the section between U. S. 45 and the Will-Cook county line on the outskirts of Tinley Park was completed late this summer.

The work scheduled for the first phase of improving Francis road between Mokena and New Lenox will include widening grading and building a base. The second and concluding phase will cover the blacktopping of the highway.

A contract for the first phase was let by the county to Cliff Hammond of Joliet for $107,000.

Weather permitting the contractor will clear away brush and do some grading this fall and will complete the job next summer.

According to Will County Highway Engineer James McCarthy, who is in charge of the project, there contract covers three and a half miles of road. It extends from Cedar road to within half a mile of a junction with Wolf road.

The reason for this gap is that the state highway department refused to approve the plans for the last half mile because of a curve in the road. However, county officials indicated that the work on this section would be done by the Will county highway department.

Francis road between New Lenox and Mokena will have a right-of-way of 70 feet, which is about 10 feet wider than the old right-of-way. The road proper will have a width of 34 feet.

Widening the road means that the Public Service and the Illinois Bell Telephone Co., will have to move a large number of poles.

WILL SHUT OFF WATER

Water on the south side of Mokena will be shut off Saturday morning at 8 o'clock until repairs can be made to a broken hydrant, it was announced by Mayor John Scarth. How long the water will remain off will depend upon the condition of the hydrant—the repairs may take only a few minutes or they could take several hours, it was said. All homes and businesses south of the Rock Island tracks will be affected by the shut-off.

L-W Teacher Writes Article On Guidance

The September issue of the American Personnel and Guidance Journal included an article by Dr. Ralph Wright, a member of the Lincoln-Way faculty, on "Teaching Occupational Information in Illinois Secondary Schools", based on his dissertation materials. He reports that this was a rewarding "professional growth" activity.

Based on questionnaire responses from 164 Illinois high school teachers of occupational information and a group of 19 jurors made up of experts and recognized authorities in the field, a tentative set of objectives and desirable characteristics for teaching occupational information was established by including those items from the questionnaire which had a total mean value of two or more. Values assigned to each item by the respondents were based on what they thought would be an ideal situation rather than the actual conditions.

The tentative list, established by the means described above, was presented and arranged in rank order. The list included 20 statements of objectives, 21 items to be included in the course content, and 16 items regarding techniques, procedures and materials.

Materials collected in this study are being used in the self-appraisal and career section of senior common learnings now being taught at Lincoln-Way.

Hold Funeral Services For Adolph Haley

Funeral services for Adolph C. Haley, 85, were held at the Goodale funeral home Friday afternoon, Oct. 2, with burial in Brooks cemetery, Homer township. He died at the British Home in Brookfield following a long illness.

Born in Canada, Dec. 13, 1870, he lived most of his life in Homer.

As a boy, he lived with his family at Hadley Corners, where his father, Charles Haley ran a blacksmith and repair shop. Most of his married life was spent at Goodings Grove where he too engaged in blacksmithing. For a short time he operated a shop in Lockport. He was a member of the Homer Camp of Modern Woodmen of America.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Otto (Leonora) Gerhardt of Milwaukee, Wis.; two sons, Roy of Park Ridge and Walter of Goodings Grove; one brother, Manley of San Leandro, Calif.; also three grandchildren and two great grandchildren. His wife, the former Emma Busch of New Lenox, preceded him in death a few years ago, as did a brother, John, and a sister Mrs. Richard Gorham.

Amvet Auxiliary Plans Parade For Hallowe'en

The annual Hallowe'en parade for the youngsters of Mokena, sponsored by the Amvets auxiliary, will be held the evening of Oct. 30.

The children are to meet on the public school grounds and the parade will move off at 7 o'clock, proceeding to the VFW hall on Wolf road.

There will be a bonfire on the VFW grounds where winners will be roasted. Candy bars also will be distributed to the youngsters and prizes will be given for the best costumes.

Mrs. Celia Cooper is chairman of the parade committee.

New Hampshire and Indiana are the only states which have no mottos.

Jacob Hoogstra Dies in Mokena

Jacob Hoogstra, 68, died in the home of his son, Bernard Hoogstra, Mokena at 1 a.m. Tuesday, Oct. 9.

Mr. and Mrs. Hoogstra, arrived in Mokena last week from their farm in Hancock, Wis. Mr. Hoogstra had undergone an operation last April.

They are former residents of Evergreen Park. Funeral services will be held in the Evergreen Park Funeral home at 2955 W. 95th st. on Thursday, Oct. 11, at 1:30 p.m. with the Rev. Blume of the Lutheran church officiating. Burial will be in the Chapel Hill Garden South cemetery on 111th st.

Besides his wife, Mr. Hoogstra is survived by three daughters; Mrs. Beatrice Neiburt, Chicago; Mrs. Dorothy Rudolph, Chicago; and Mrs. Gertrude Robb, of Worth. Also three sons, Jacob of New Lenox, Wilbur, and Bernard of Mokena. A brother Henry Hoogstra, also survives.

Anis Ruthenbeck Dies Suddenly

The many friends were grieved last Friday when they learned of the sudden death of Mrs. Glenn F. Ruthenbeck, 20, in her home east of New Lenox on Lincoln highway.

The former Anis Lee (Cici) Bears was born and reared in New Lenox. She was graduated from the Joliet township high school and later took an active part in the 4-H work. She was employed for a short time by the Rock Island railroad in the Chicago office. She also was a member for the Trinity Lutheran church in New Lenox, and was loved by all who knew her.

Surviving beside her husband is a daughter Kathryn, 9 months old; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Baers; a brother Silas, and grandmother, Mrs. Clementine Hendrickson, all of New Lenox.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in the Trinity Lutheran church, New Lenox, with the Rev. Leonard Reinke officiating. Burial was in Maplewood cemetery, New Lenox.

Lincoln-Way Band To Launch Candy Sale Wednesday

The Lincoln-Way Band will again sell the "world's finest chocolate bars" this year. This candy bar, in an attractive wrapper displaying a picture of the band, will be sold by the band members for fifteen days starting Oct. 17th.

Last year the band cleared $415 on their candy bar sale, and this year members are hoping to do better. All proceeds are turned over to the Lincoln-Way Band Boosters to be used in the purchase of new uniforms. The candy will be available at the Band Boosters dance Saturday night, Oct. 13.

Seek New Members For Grade School Band at Frankfort

A program to recruit new band members for the Frankfort grade school band is underway. A musical aptitude test was given to all students in grades five through eight recently, and letters have been mailed to the parents of all boys and girls who showed an aptitude for music. Interest in the program is very high in all grades, and Robert Taylor, band director, is anticipating a large enrollment. Since the present band is small, there are openings for students on all band instruments.

A demonstration and display of band instruments will be held in the Frankfort grade school gym on Monday evening, Oct. 15 at 8 o'clock. All interested students and their parents are invited to attend this meeting.

Wesley Nelson, 21, Suffers Injury In Auto Crash

Wesley Nelson, 21, of Wolf rd., Mokena, has been released from Silver Cross hospital in Joliet, where he was taken after an automobile, driven by Edward J. Hill, 21, of 187 Maple rd., Mokena, overturned.

The accident occurred Wednesday, Oct. 3, on a gravel road about 1 1/2 miles north of route 30, just off Wolf rd.

State police officers who investigated the accident said Hill was southbound when the car went out of control and overturned. He was issued an arrest ticket for failure to have the car under control.

Hill and Joan Hack, of Mokena, also in the car, both escaped injury.

Nelson suffered injuries to the right arm.

Return New Indictments in Jeffries Case

The September grand jury called back at the request of State's Attorney Frank H. Masters, Jr., has returned new indictments against William Jeffries of Lincoln Estates, who is charged with a brutal attack on a 5-year-old girl.

The latest indictment charges him with taking indecent liberties. The other charges rape, as did the original true bill brought in against him while he was a fugitive.

The new indictments, however, differ from the original in that they carry Jeffries given name as Billie instead of William. According to State's Attorney Masters, Jeffries declared that his first name was Billie and not William. This was a technicality but inasmuch as the grand jury was coming back anyway to hear evidence against Jeffries on the indecent liberties charge, the state's attorney asked for new true bills.

Jeffries was brought before Circuit Judge James V. Bartley in Joliet Tuesday and furnished with a copy of the indictments and a list of witnesses, as required by law. He was arraigned again yesterday.

Jeffries is represented by Public Defender Thomas Vinson.

POSTMASTER TO ATTEND CONVENTION

Mrs. Margaret O'Brien, Mokena postmaster, will leave Friday for New York City where she will attend the national convention of the postmasters. While in the East she will visit her cousins Mr. and Mrs. Leo Maue in New Jersey and Dan Maue in New York City.

Mrs. Ellis O'Daniel, assistant postmaster at New Lenox, will also attend the convention.

L-W Band Boosters To Give Dance at School Saturday

The Lincoln-Way high school Band Boosters is sponsoring a dance in the school gymnasium Saturday night, Oct. 13.

Dancing will be from 9 to 12 and everyone is invited. Refreshments will be available.

Proceeds from the dance will be used by the Boosters in meeting various needs of the band.

FLAGS & TRIUMPH

To remind Americans of our ancestors' battle for the liberties we enjoy today, Procter & Gamble presents some famous flags and their history.

OLIVER PERRY FLAG
At the Naval battle of Lake Erie on September 10th, 1813, Oliver Hazard Perry, the Commander, was called on to surrender. His answer was to repeat the dying words of Captain James Lawrence: "Don't give up the ship." Perry won the battle.

LIBERTY TREE FLAG
Adopted by Massachusetts in 1776 to commemorate the tree under which the Sons of Liberty met just before the Boston Tea Party. British General Gage ordered the tree cut down.

FORT MOULTRIE FLAG
This flag flew above Fort Moultrie (then Fort Sullivan) in Charleston Harbor during the battle of June 28th, 1776. It was struck down and a Sgt. William Jasper replaced it under a rain of bullets, crying, "Don't let us fight without a flag."

BENNINGTON FLAG
This flag was carried at the Battle of Bennington, August 16th, 1777. Here the British forces under Burgoyne were turned back by Ethan Allen's Green Mountain Boys.

CONTINENTAL FLAG
Carried at the Battle of Bunker Hill, June 17th, 1775. It was at this battle that the Continentals first showed their mettle.

Pick "John Loves Mary" Cast - A Village Players Production

With the cast chosen for the next production of the Mokena Village Players, rehearsals have been started under the direction of Mrs. Lou Loebe of New Lenox.

The play, "John Loves Mary" is to be presented Nov. 2 and 3 in the Mokena village school.

George Carlisle, who played the male lead in "The Curse of an Aching Heart", a melodrama given by the Players last year, will have the leading man's role in "John Loves Mary." The part of Mary will be played by Marilyn Larson Cundiff, who appeared as Susan in "Mother Was A Freshman."

Others in the cast are: Mr. Loebe, Mary Looschen, Ethel Gottlieb, Marion Owen, Norval Robinson, Roy Carlson and Don Bost.

Lou Loebe, who has complained in the past that in the parts he has played in various plays his wife has directed he has never "gotten the girl", finds himself at the opposite extreme in this production. He gets too many girls in "John Loves Mary". And one of them is Mary Looschen who claims that her only previous stage appearance was as Fairy Queen while she was in the sixth grade at school. Those who have watched her in rehearsal praise her work.

Ethel Gottlieb, who took the part of Annie in "The Curse of an Aching Heart," has the part of Mary's mother in the new production and Marion Owen, who usually appears as a heavy takes the part of Mary's father, Sen. James McKinley.

Pat Dean is serving as prompter.

Mr. Carlisle, who is the president of the Players, is naming committees this week to care for the details that pop up in the production of a show.

Royal Neighbors Will Hold County Conclave in Mokena

The Royal Neighbors of America in Will county will hold their convention in the VFW hall in Mokena, starting at 1:30 pm. Thursday, Oct. 18, continuing into the evening.

The convention is being sponsored by the Mokena Royal Neighbors camp and they invite all organization members in the area to attend.

It is expected that approximately 150 members will attend the evening session which is formal.

Mrs. Edith Sayers will serve as oracle during the convention. Ann Spangler, of Rock Island, supreme oracle and visiting deputies from other areas will attend the convention.

All camps from Will and DuPage counties will be represented. The Mokena oracle is Eleanor Kraus.

TWENTY SECOND CHICAGO FLOWER SHOW SCHOOL

"America's foremost floral artist," "Dynamic, theatrical, amazing," "a master showman." These are just a few of the critics' comments of J. Gregory Conway of Fullerton, Calif., internationally known flower arranger, author and artist who will be presented by the Garden Club of Illinois, Inc. Wednesday Oct. 24, in Fullerton hall of the Chicago Art Institute at 10 am. and 1 pm.

Mr. Conway will emphasize Flower Arrangement with history and background; preservation of material; type of arrangements; line, mass and line; mechanics and containers, for Course 1 of the 22nd Chicago Flower show school.

A native of Montana, Mr. Conway secured his degree in flower arranging from the University of Osaka, Japan. He is responsible for the first accredited art course in flower arrangement ever established in America, at the University of Southern California. He has served as guest lecturer on floral art for the Japanese, Mexican and Cuban governments as well as at the Universities of Hawaii, California and Georgia, and Stanford University. He has lectured extensively in the United States and Europe and probably commands the highest fee in his profession, as much as $1000 for a three hour lecture.

Mrs. Earle G. Benson of Flossmoor, president of The Garden Club of Illinois, will greet the students at the first session. The chairman of the school is Mrs. Raymond Whitcomb of Park Ridge assisted by Mrs. Howard T. Knight, of Elgin State chairman of Flower Show Schools.

Mrs. James R. Searles of Kirkwood, Mo. will present Flower Show Practice, duties of committees of the Flower Show and Horticulture, types of plants, growing exhibition materials; propagation, Demonstration in Judging Horticulture Classes, on Thursday, Oct. 25 at 9:30 a.m. and 12:30 pm.

A true horticulturist, a nationally accredited judge and a member of the American Iris and Hemerocallis societies, Mrs. Searles proved very popular a year ago when serving as a teacher at the Chicago Flower Show school. She has lectured throughout the midwest and has had experience as chairman of Flower Show schools in Missouri.

Those persons attending all sessions and complying with the requirements of the national council of State Garden clubs may take the examination Friday Oct. 26 in the Illinois room of the Palmer House from 9:30 am. until 3 pm.

The school is open to all who are interested, whether garden club members or not. There is a fee for the full course of lectures or for a single lecture. Tickets are available at The Garden Club of Illinois headquarters in The Palmer House or at Fullerton Hall on the days of the lectures.

Business Education Department

At the present time approximately 320 students are taking advantage of the course offerings in the business education department at the Carl Sandburg High school. This figure represents about 40 per cent of the student body.

These students are being prepared for employment in business occupations through intensive training in basic skills and techniques. A thorough background of business information is presented to help make acquired skills more marketable. Since studies show that success in business depends largely on personal habits and traits, the development of desirable personal qualifications is encouraged.

Although business education is generally considered a basically vocational course of study, the business education curriculum at the Carl Sandburg High school is designed to fulfill not only vocational but personal use objectives as well. Graduates of Carl Sandburg who go on to college are finding that the business courses that they elected in high school contribute to their success in taking and transcribing lecture notes and in typewriting term papers. Many college students are able to earn part of their expenses by means of the skills acquired in such courses.

The department is in the process of being enlarged. Three rooms will be made available at the end of the present semester as a result of the current building program.

Typing Classes By Carol Molitor

Learning how to type efficiently and skillfully is very important to the man or woman who plans to enter the business world.

The text, Gregg Typing, New Series, is a complete course. John L. Rowe and Alan C. Lloyd wrote the book to fit the interests and needs of the students. They present typing techniques in the most modern form.

Typing I students learn the primary reaches including alphabet and numbers reaches. Accuracy and speed are stressed. The student becomes familiar with the mechanisms of the typewriter. Setting up letters, invoices, telegrams, postcards, and labels are a few examples of jobs used to put the typist into action.

Emphasis in advanced typing classes is chiefly placed on acquiring all the techniques accurate and efficient production. In Typing I, the student gets more experience by typing office-style jobs. Further drills are used to increase typewriting skills.

Shorthand and Bookkeeping By Shirley Meyer

Learning the shorthand alphabet and reading from shorthand notes are two of the skills learned in Shorthand I. The students' writing skill is developed by writing dictated words or phrases over and over. In order to pass Shorthand I, the student must be able to take dictation on new material at the rate of 60 words a minute for at least three minutes and transcribe it with 95% accuracy.

In Shorthand II the main skill learned is transcribing at the typewriter. The students' dictation and transcription speed is developed more fully with emphasis on accuracy.

The bookkeeping course develops enough skill in this field for good citizenship, personal use, and earning a living. The important points stressed in this course are neatness and accuracy.

One of the devices used in teaching bookkeeping is the workbook. It has study questions and problems in it that you might find if you worked in an office. Colored filmstrips and outline course help to simplify the course for the student. The kind of tests given in this course are daily quizzes, unit tests, and objective and problem type semester and final exams.

Interest in the course is added by having each student work on a bookkeeping set. These sets have the same problems in them that you would find in the bookkeeping of a business office. A field trip and talks by professional people also add to the interest of this course.

HOMER

Lockport, R. 1
Telephone Lockport 1387M

The Good Luck Camp of Royal Neighbors will meet at Homer church social room Thursday afternoon, Oct. 18. Hostesses are Mesdames Anna White, Mary White, Margaret Storm and Kate Wies.

The Mother's club of Ross school will meet in the home of Mrs. Russell Schacke, 167th and Parker Rd. Wednesday evening, Oct. 17.

Vandalism has broken out in Homer lately. Several mail boxes among them Stanley Coe's and William Underwood's were knocked down and the pump on the south side of Messenger Woodlands Forest Preserve was wrecked, so there is no way of getting water at the spot. We wonder if the culprits realize the seriousness of tampering with Uncle Sam's property.

Mrs. F. J. Paddock injured her ankle in a fall at her home Tuesday. She was taken to the hospital for x-rays, which showed no broken bones, but a sprain which will require some time to recover.

Ralph Burch returned to his home in Wisconsin Thursday night after spending two days with relatives here.

Bruce Anderson has been appointed Homer chairman of the Community Chest drive for this year. The "kick off" meeting was held Thursday evening at Woodluff hotel. The drive begins Oct. 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Mitchell entertained at a six o'clock dinner Sunday evening in honor of the first birthday of their daughter, Patricia Ann. The guest list included Otto Konow, Sr., Miss Lila Konow, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Konow, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Konow, Jr., and daughter, Mary Alice, Mrs. Dorothy Miller, daughter Leona and son, Joe, and George Konow.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Shepherd and family and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kelm were among the visitors at the Dairy show in Chicago Sunday.

The H. V. Drewes family have purchased a home on 11th st., near Lincoln in Lockport and expect to move there this month. Mrs. Leon Phillips and sons will return to their home which is now occupied by the Drewes.

The minister and members of Homer church have received an invitation from the Lockport Congregational church to attend a Recognition service for their new pastor the Rev. George A. Moulthrop, Oct. 21 at 7 p.m.

Board Chooses Architect

The Homer Community school board held a special meeting at Wells Corner school house last Monday to decide upon the architect for the proposed new building. The firm of Kruegel, Wilkins, Healy and Moore of Joliet have been chosen for the job with Mr. Healy as the contact man. The board has also obtained the option on the land near the town hall, five acres to be purchased after a vote is taken with four more acres to be taken within five years. On Saturday morning the board went with Mr. Healy to look at several school buildings in and around Joliet which were planned by his company.

The Pilgrim Fellowship of Homer church joined the Lockport group at pot-luck dinner and evening meeting Sunday night.

The Rev. and Mrs. David Muth were received into the fellowship of Homer church Sunday morning.

Dinner guests recently of Mr. and Mrs. Veryl Butterfield of Sayre ave. were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Callahan and sons of Wollott, Ind., Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hagood of Milford; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Hagood and sons of Elman; Mr. and Mrs. Claude Butterfield; Mr. and Mrs. Al Orensen, Jr. and son and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Pettit and son. Later in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Hank Leader and sons of Chicago Heights joined the group. The happy birthday song was sung for the three birthday celebrants, Red Butterfield, Leslie Hagood and Tracy Lee Pettit.

Eileen Weber, Charles Allott Exchange Vows

Miss Eileen Weber, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Isom, Orland Park, and Charles Allott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Allott of Wilmington, were united in marriage Saturday, Sept. 29 in the First Presbyterian church in Joliet. The Rev. Mr. Taylor officiated at the double ring ceremony at 4 p.m.

The bride was escorted by her uncle, Mr. Isom, and wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace over tulle net with sequins on the bodice. Her finger tip veil was caught by a coronet of pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of white lillies of the valley and Amazon lillies.

Rosalie Weber, sister of the bride was maid of honor and Norma Jean Manard, also a sister of the bride was bridesmaid. Their gowns were identical, made of pastel blue chiffon, floor length, with matching head pieces and gloves. They carried pink and white carnation bouquets. The bride's mother and sisters reside in St. Louis, Mo.

Llewellyn Jones of Joliet served as best man and Jack Clark, also of Joliet, was groomsman. They wore summer tuxedos.

Following the service, guests gathered at the Isom home until the evening, when a reception was held in the American Legion hall in Orland Park with the Auxiliary members serving buffet style supper. About 150 guests enjoyed dancing.

The bridal table was centered with a huge four tiered wedding cake. The newlyweds spent their honeymoon at the Ozarks and will reside in a new subdivision Bridgeview.

The bride attended the Orland grade schools and two years of high school in Orland Park.

Rehabilitate Harvey Theater

Leonard R. Singer, formerly of Springfield, is the new operator of the Brandt theater on East 154th street in downtown Harvey.

The theater is now undergoing rehabilitation but the work is being carried out in such a manner that the show goes on.

The Brandt is open seven days a week from 1:30 to 11 p.m.

According to Mr. Singer the entire house is being redecorated and some repair and remodeling work is being done. Plans also call for recarpeting the entire theater.

Drafts and notes differ in that the form is a written order to pay; the latter a written promise to pay.

Elaine Mohnk, of Orland Park, E. G. Niemeyer, Tinley, Are Wed

Elaine Mohnk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mohnk of Orland Park, became the bride of Edwin G. Niemeyer son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Niemeyer of Tinley Park, on Sept. 1, at an afternoon wedding in the Trinity Lutheran church. The Rev. Carl Hoch performed the ceremony.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her father, wore a gown of white lace over satin studded with seed pearls and iridescent sequins, with a sweetheart neckline, V-fitted waist, full skirt and chapel train. The finger-tip veil was held by a white lace headband studded with seed pearls. The bride's bouquet was composed of white fugii mums centered with contrasting siperitiums.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Thea Remelis, cousin of the groom, wore a gown of tile blue crystalette and carried bronze

The U.S. farm output increased by 28% between 1940 and 1952, with output per man hour increasing 52% because of rapid progress in farm mechanization and increased yields of improved farming practices.

It's estimated that American agriculture could increase production by one-fifth within the next five years, if a 20% increase in demand could be created.

to yellow fugii 'mums. The bridesmaids, Laura Marquardt, Tinley Park; Mrs. Dolores Egendorf, Blue Island, Noreen Baumgartner, Lincolnwood, wore gowns of the same color as the matron of honor; boquets were similar.

Willard Meyer of Tinley Park was the best man and groomsmen were Donald Mohnk, Raymond Meyer and Norman Schilling. Charles Steinhauser and Willis Brandsteadt served as ushers.

Otto Beccue, organist, accompanied the Misses Arlene and Elaine Elbers who sang "Oh Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The reception was held at Saenger hall.

Following the wedding trip, the young couple are making their home in Tinley Park, the groom being engaged in farming.

Rayson Urges More State Aid For Schools

Leland H. Rayson, of Tinley Park, Democratic candidate for state senator from the 6th district, presented his views on major school problems when he addressed the North Oak Lawn Civic association Tuesday night.

Referring particularly to the 6th district, he stressed the need for alleviating the school situation by a revolving state fund to provide loans for new school construction.

He explained in order to qualify for state aid, school districts need only tax real estate owners at the rate of 50c per $1000 assessed valuation. In the 6th district, most communities are taxing at the rate of $1 to $1.25 per assessed valuation.

He revealed many downstate areas tax at the lowest level and the state makes up the difference. He advocates a formula which will compel low taxing areas to bear more of the educational load so that a more equitable share of state educational aid is distributed thruout the state.

If you have to replace the fence posts on your farm every couple years, you may well be digging that same hole 10 times oftener than you would have to if you used theater posts.

Irene Wischover, of Frankfort Becomes Bride of Marvin Rauch

Miss Irene Alice Wischover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Wischover, of Frankfort, and Marvin Arthur Rauch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rauch, Sr., of Tinley Park, were married in the Immanuel Lutheran church, Sauk Trail and Cicero ave., Sunday, Sept. 2.

The double ring ceremony was conducted by the Rev. Adolph Ullrich at 4:30 p.m.

The church was decorated with white gladioli and seckler-plants. The candelabra were lighted by Elaine and Dorothy Wischover, sisters of the bride.

Harold Bickel, organist, played appropriate music. Erhardt Roeske sang "Oh Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride, who was escorted by her father, wore a white gown with lace top, scattered with sequins and beads. The full skirt of tulle had lace inserts over taffeta. The long-sleeve gown had a mandeline collar. A fingertip veil held in place with a beaded cap, completed the bridal costume.

The bride carried a bouquet of white roses with ivy foliage and wore a single strand of pearls with matching earrings, a gift of the groom.

Shirley Wischover, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her gown was of gold ruffled net over lace and taffeta with matching jacket and picture hat. Her flowers were green carnations with ivy foliage.

The bridesmaids, Irene Wischover, sister of the bride; Arlene Wischover, sister-in-law of the bride; and Verna Schuldt, sister of the groom, all wore identical gowns, similar to the one worn by the maid of honor, except in green. Their flowers were gold carnations with ivy foliage.

The candlelighters' gown were similar to the bridesmaids' only in coral. They wore wristlets of white and coral carnations.

Laurence Rauch, brother of the groom, served as best man and groomsmen were Roger and Orville Wischover, brothers of the bride; and Vernon Schuldt, brother-in-law of the groom.

Ushers were Lloyd Triebold, cousin of the bride; and Richard Rauch, brother of the groom.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Otto Wischover, was attired in air-force blue with white accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Walter Rauch, wore a light blue gown with white accessories. Both wore a corsage of white carnations with pink rose garnets.

A dinner for the immediate families was held in the Frankfort town hall following the ceremony. A reception was held in the Saenger ballroom in Tinley Park, attended by 600 guests.

The young couple motored thru the western states on their honeymoon and will be at home at 167th and 104th, Tinley Park.

The groom is employed by the Grays Construction company of Tinley Park.

Former Tinley Girl is Wed At Auburn Park

Grace Methodist church of Auburn Park was the setting for a beautiful and simple wedding ceremony as Jeannine Zobac, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Zobac of Chicago became the bride of Roger Brattstrom, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Brattstrom, also of Chicago, Oct. 6 at a 7:30 candlelight double ring ceremony.

Officiating were the Rev. Lloyd Coleman and Dr. Gatlin. Robert Haknson was organist with Archibald Ballantine, member of the Swedish Choral club as soloist.

The bride was lovely in a gown of ivory satin as she was escorted to the altar by her father. Her rosepoint tulle veil was worn by her mother when she exchanged her vows 27 years ago on Oct. 7. The bridal bouquet was of white carnations and mums, and orange blossoms carried on a white bibbie.

Three bridesmaids were gowned in forest green velvet sheaths white gloves, and tiny flower sprays worn in their hair. They carried cornucopias of bronze spider mums and grape clusters.

Three ushers completed the bridal party. The reception was held in the church parlors for 250 guests with the guest book presided over by Misses Lila and Adele Zobac.

Buffet luncheon was served by five friends of the bride from a beautifully appointed table centered with a four tiered wedding cake.

The bridal party table had as its centerpiece a tiny bride's cake decorated with tiny slip-pers.

During the reception incidental music was furnished by pianist Robert Howett of the Euterpean chorus of Morgan Park.

The bride's mother chose a gown of mink brown crepe with a satin panel back interest, while Mrs. Brattstrom was gowned in dusty rose lace with brown accessories. Both mothers wore camellia corsage.

The newlyweds motored to the Lake of the Ozarks and upon their return will move into their own apartment on Chicago's southside.

The new Mrs. Brattstrom is a graduate nurse of Wesley Memorial hospital and at present is doing industrial nursing. The groom is employed at the Ford Motor plant.

The George Zobac family were residents of Tinley Park for many years before moving to Chicago.

Fire Prevention Most Important In Farm Areas

Farm families, many minutes removed from immediate fire fighting assistance should exercise great care in preventing fires, according to Otto Steffey, Illinois Agricultural Association president. "Unless rain falls soon, farmers will find it hazardous to harvest corn because the dry leaves and silks will often be ignited by contact with hot manifold of the tractor", he said.

Firemen Aid Locked-out Householder

Firemen are an accommodating lot, as Mrs. William DePew of 6928 W. 173rd Place will testify. Last Thursday afternoon Mrs. DePew, who with her husband and two youngsters occupy a second floor apartment at the 173rd Place address, went down into the yard to talk with neighbors. Her youngsters decided to go out too and when they did—slammed the door. Closing the door also locked it and all the keys were inside. When keys of neighbors were tried and found wanting Mrs. DePew called the fire department and recounted her plight. As a result two of the members of the department, Henry J. Bettenhausen (left) and Frank Lehmann (right) came out with a truck, ran up a ladder and after opening a window one of them went in the apartment and opened the door.

Boob of the Month

When this Boob first drove a car he realized he was a beginner.

He observed all the rules and took no chances.

Now he's got mileage on the speedometer and on the brain.

Rules are for beginners; he's graduated.

As a Master Driver his confidence is supreme. He zips past cars moving at legal speed, cuts the passing distance on hills and curves, and zooms in and out in reckless, but masterful, fashion.

It's nice going until one Master Boob meets another. Then they get their final diplomas.—COOK COUNTY HIGHWAYS (Published by Cook County Highway Department).

New One Feeding Cattle And Sheep Wormer Is Easy, Effective And Economical

Worming cattle and sheep which has long been quite a chore is now simplified with the invention of Pheno-lets, a 52% phenothiazine pellet which has been especially prepared for taste appeal.

Cost of worming varies from 8½ to 20c a head depending upon size. Pheno-lets are easy to feed. Just sprinkle over one feeding the recommended amount of these small, green phenothiazine pellets.

County farmers who have used Pheno-lets report that cattle and sheep consume them readily when scattered over dry grain.

Increase Prizes For Homemakers Of Tomorrow

Scholarships in the third annual Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow have been increased to $106,000 with three new awards, it was revealed today by General Mills.

The 1957 All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow, who will be announced at a banquet at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City, May 2, will again receive a $5,000 scholarship to the college of her choice. She will be selected from among 48 state winners and the representative from the District of Columbia.

This year for the first time, girls who rank second, third and fourth in the national finals which will climax an educational tour of state winners to Washington, D. C., Colonial Williamsburg, Va., and New York City, will receive $4,000, $3,000 and $2,000 scholarships and all state runners-up will receive $500 scholarships.

The program is open to graduating senior girls in all high schools that are enrolled by Oct. 31. Each girl entered will take a written homemaking examination on Dec. 4. The test, prepared by Science Research Associates of Chicago and administered by the schools, will be the basis for awards until the national selections when personal observation and personal interviews will be included.

"The schools today are doing an excellent job in preparing our young people for their role as future leaders," declared Charles H. Bell, president of General Mills. "We want to help in any way we can. One of the problems is to instill in high school girls a realization of the vital role they, as homemakers, will play in the future of America."

"From teachers, and from the girls themselves, we know that every girl who enters the Search and takes the test gains a deeper understanding of herself, and of her responsibilities to her family and community."

Each girl with the highest test will receive a new aid to self analysis called "Betty Crocker's Homemaker Profiler and Guide to Homemaking."

The girl with the highest test score in each school will be named Homemaker of Tomorrow for her school and will receive an award pin designed by Tribune entered in state competition. Her test will The school of each state winner will receive a complete set of the Encyclopedia Britannica.

All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow named at Philadelphia in the first two years of this scholarship program were Deloris Arnette of Enterprise, Ala., in 1955 and Sandra Walton of San Rafael, Calif., in 1956. Miss Arnette is attending Judson College in Marion, Ala., and Miss Walton is attending the University of California at Davis, Calif.

In the two years the Betty Crocker Search has been conducted, 443,997 girls have participated.

Leaders to Fete Economy Team Of San. Dist.

More than 800 civic leaders of the Chicago area will gather in the Grand Ballroom of the Palmer House next Tuesday evening, Oct. 16, to honor the "economy team" of the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago, it was announced by Albert E. Jenner Jr., chairman of the committee for tax reduction.

The committee, formed in 1952 to support those public officials regardless of party who cut taxes, is sponsoring the banquet. The guests of honor are Trustees William F. Patterson, John G. Henneberger, William S. Nordburg, and Francis T. Delaney. They are all Republicans and are candidates for reelection on Nov. 6. They are part of the economy team in the Sanitary District which, un-

JACK FROST RUNS HOT AND COLD IN TINTING TREES

Autumn artist Jack Frost can't be expected to paint masterpieces in your back yard unless he is fired with solar energy.

Jack needs sunshine as well as cold nights for his best efforts, according to Davey tree experts. Warm, bright days and cool nights below 45 degrees—but not necessarily with frost—are the combination needed to produce brilliant red and orange autumn leaves.

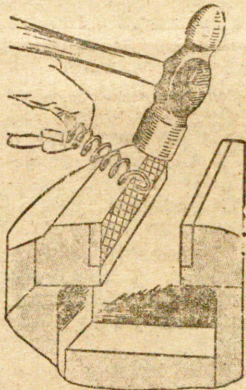

Sunshine helps leaves manufacture a good deal of sugar. When daytime warmth is followed by a sudden temperature drop, sugar and other materials are trapped in the leaves. And the accumulation of these materials produces the pigment for fall's freedom colorama.

New Hook in Spring End

WHEN a new hook is needed on the end of a coil spring, the simplest method is to place the spring on the corner of a vise or anvil and use a hammer.

This procedure is far easier than using a pliers.

Place the last coil of the spring over the corner and hammer it at right angles to the axis of the spring. While hammering, move the spring slightly to avoid cutting the wire on the edge of the vise jaw.

Rams Blank Sandburg 14 to 0

Eagles Offense Fails For First Time This Year; Frosh Lose too

Carl Sandburg's high school football team was blanked for the first this year as the Reavis Rams posted a 14-0 win on Friday night at Reavis.

Sandburg's offense failed to click for the first time.

Reavis scored an early first quarter touchdown on a drive that carried more than 50 yards and failed to convert the extra point. Near the end of the half a high pass from center sailed over kicker McBurney's head and he was downed in the end zone for a safety and Reavis led 8-0. A fourth quarter touchdown concluded the scoring.

Reavis' smaller line outcharged Sandburg all evening, opening huge holes for the backs to churn thru and breaking thru to throw Sandburg runners before they could operate the single wing offense when Sandburg had the ball.

The freshmen-sophomore team was edged by Reavis 19-18. Reavis and Sandburg swapped first half touchdowns but Reavis converted on one extra point attempt to take a 13-12 half time lead. Sandburg scored on a 45 yard pass play from Hosier to Gee in the third quarter to take a temporary lead of 18-12.

Early in the fourth quarter, Johansen broke over left guard and ran 87 yards for what looked like a clinching touchdown but the officials detected the backfield in motion and the touchdown was called back.

A late fourth period drive scored for Reavis with less than two minutes remaining in the game and Reavis had a 18-19 lead. Desperate last minute aerials thrown by Hosier barely missed on two occasions and Reavis ended the game with the ball and a 19-18 win.

Rates Tops as Riding Teacher

Mrs. Frances Reker of Tinley Park and Miss Nancy Cairnes of Palos Park have recently returned from Steamboat Springs, Colorado, after attending the national riding school. Mrs. Reker obtained America's highest honor for riding teachers with a No. 1 rating. This is America's stamp of approval for riding instructor and Mrs. Reker is the only teacher in the Chicago area to hold this honor.

Miss Nancy Cairnes received her junior instructors card for teachers under 20 years of age. She is applying her knowledge by being one of Mrs. Reker's assistant teachers in riding at the Frances Reker School of Horsemanship in Tinley Park.

Their rigid examinations covered teaching elementary, intermediate, and advanced riding, jumping, hunting, training of horses, and showing of horses.

Morgan Park Military academy has its cavalry centered at the Frances Reker School of Horsemanship. Many children and adults from this area have been under instruction from Mrs. Reker and participated in an all day horse show Sept. 23.

Rich Blasts Title Hopes of Lincoln-Way

By Denny Wheeler

Lincoln-Way's conference championship dreams were dealt a severe blow as the Rockets from Rich township beat the Knights 20-7 last Friday on the Park Forest gridiron.

Led by Buchmeier and North, the Rockets displayed devastating power on offense and a stalwart defense. Until the fourth quarter, the Knights' ground game was almost useless.

The Knights received the kick off and drove immediately to a first down. But a fumbled hand-off was pounced on by an alert Rocket and Rich took over. Working out of a single wing offense, the Rockets viciously pounded into L-W territory. The drive was halted on the seven when North fumbled.

But the Knights fumbled on their second play and Rich had the ball again. Two plays later Buchmeier plunged into the end zone and Rich led 7-0.

Folkers returned the kick-off to the 46. Ron Fredin fired a long pass to Morrie Wade who was tackled on the Rich 29. However, as Ron passed again, the ball was deflected by Martin and intercepted to give Rich the ball.

North moved to a first down on the 50, but Woodward pounced on Buchmeier's fumble and the Knights moved again. Another interception foiled the Knights' drive and this time Rich drove deep into the Red and Black domain. The Knights buckled down and stalled the Rockets' attack on the seven yard line. The half ended as Ron Studnicki raced 54 yards after a long pass from Fredin.

Rich wasted no time rolling up another score in the third period as they belted 59 yards to paydirt. North scored on an off-tackle smash and Buchmeier again converted to put the Rockets ahead 14-0.

Then on the kickoff, Red Wade raced 70 yards on a spectacular return to score a touchdown for the Knights. Wade seemed trapped several times, but always spun loose and finally outran the Park Forest crew. Rich Bailey converted the point. Rich 14, Lincoln-Way 7.

Midway in the fourth quarter, the Knights moved hard on a series of nice passes. The drive extended to the twelve yard line until the officials detected an infraction of the rules which set the Knights back to the 27.

A long pass intended for Wade seemed to have "touchdown" labeled on it until Morrie was suddenly up-ended by two Rich men who apparently were also in quest of the pigskin. No red handkerchief appeared, however.

Rich took over on downs but North fumbled the pass from center and dove on it. The pigskin squirted free and Woodward pounced on it but the referee ruled that the ball was dead in that North had maintained control of the ball long enough.

The clock had almost run out and the disconsolate Knights attempted to regain possession of the leather. But North broke thru a gaping hole and raced 70 yards to an insurance touchdown.

The defeat was Lincoln-Way's second in four contests, but they still have an excellent chance for a fine season.

Saturday Oct. 13, they meet Carl Sandburg on the Eagle turf. Sandburg and Lincoln-Way are currently tied in the league standings, and an old rivalry will be renewed. It will be a thriller and a very important game for both squads.

New Lenox Riding Club's Annual Horse Show Draws Large Crowd

Clear skies and firm turf combined to contribute to the success of the annual Gymkhana of the New Lenox Riding club which was held Sunday on grounds just west of the village along Lincoln highway.

Horses and riders, of course, were the principal factors of this playday on horseback program but the weather was a big item too. It helped to bring out the crowd.

Spectators in cars and afoot surrounded the show ring and were enthusiastic with their applause. Attendance this year was greater than last year.

Stuart Vanderbilt was ringmaster and Dr. E. J. Mayer the announcer. John Corrigan, of Oak Park, was judge of the show.

In addition to the events in the horse show, there was a pet parade in which children had 23 entries. The 11 events in the Gymkhana all drew heavy fields.

The list of winners, compiled by Mrs. Emil Groth, secretary of the show follows:

Equipment ride: 1. Janet Timm, of Manhattan on Cow Boy; 2. Glenn Vally, New Lenox on Judge Roy Bean; 3. Martha Sandberg, Joliet on Thunderhead.

Cloverleaf barrel race: James Treadway, 1. Palos Park, on Amego; 2. Donna Lee Shields, Blue Island on Cherokee; 3. Russell Daugherty, New Lenox, on Buddy.

Pet parade: 1. Jill and Jean Vally of New Lenox with a pair of burrows; 2. Nancy Harris, New Lenox, with Louise the Duck; 3. Ralph Lauffer, Mokena, with a rabbit; 4. Billy McNulty, of Chicago, a horse.

Wheel barrow race: 1. Daun Weber of New Lenox and Norman Pfeifer of Palos Park; 2. Sandy Eden and Owen Storm, New Lenox; 3. Caryl Robinson, New Lenox and Donald Schemmelpfenning, of Pekin.

English pleasure class: 1. Mrs. E. C. Olson, New Lenox, on Ginger Play Girl; 2. Kaye Delaney, Manhattan, on Rosebud; 3. Bob Brown, New Lenox, on Dar-A-Lee; 4. Carolyn Baurrie, Plainfield, on Smoky; 5. E. C. Olson, New Lenox on Cin-A-Mon Play Boy.

Western pleasure, junior: 1. Mike McNulty, of Chicago; 2. Bobby Treadway, Palos Park; 3. William McNulty, Chicago.

Western pleasure, senior: 1. David Bruns, on Smoky; 2. Sandy Eden, on Jimmy; 3. Mrs. E. C. Olson on Dar-A-Lee; 4. Glenn Vally on Judge Roy Bean and Russell, on Buddy. All the riders were from New Lenox.

Musical chairs: 1. James Treadway, Palos Park; 2. Mike McNulty; 3. Fred Fahlbusch, of Palos Park.

Shoe race: 1. Janet Timm, Manhattan, on Cow Boy; 2. Daun Weber, on Rustie Beauty; 3. Fred Fahlbusch, on Beauty.

Apple race: 1. James and Bob Treadway on Chips and Amego; 2. Robert French and Georgianna French, Mokena, on Crusty and Ginger; 3. Danny Walker and Bobby Glenn, of New Lenox, on Sham and Rebel.

Ribbon race: 1. Jim and Bob Treadway; 2. Donna Lee Shields, Blue Island and Tom Treadway, Palos Park; 3. Sandy Eden and Don Warning, of New Lenox.

Water race: 1. Daun Weber; 2. Don Warning, on Randy; 3. Dan King, of Lockport.

Frankfort Girl Volleyball Team Wins Four Games

The Frankfort public school girl volleyball team won two games from Manhattan, 15-4 and 15-7 on Sept. 28.

The Frankfort team also beat the Laraway school at Frankfort in two games with scores of 15-11 and 15-13.

The Frankfort girls play at Mokena tomorrow afternoon at 4:15 p.m.

Illinois and southern Wisconsin small town dwellers and rural residents this fall may expect the greatest influx of hunters they ever have experienced. Last year about this time we got interested in just how fast good hunting territory was disappearing in the Illinois-Indiana-southern Wisconsin area. We thought then that the city was moving to the country pretty fast. A recent trip has more than confirmed last year's estimate.

Last year we saw construction going on where many a fine stand of oats or corn had once appeared. This year we saw something different—the people who moved into the finished construction.

In all seriousness we say that the hunter who does not watch his shots within a radius of 50 miles of Chicago proper is likely to be endangering a human. Human traffic, afoot and in vehicles, is something definitely to be considered, and watched if serious accidents are to be avoided.

There still are a lot of city fellers who come into the store who seem convinced that all they have to do is to run out into Lake county and do their hunting this year. We can't convince them otherwise so we'll just have to let them find out.

We do know that, being hunters, they will keep on going until they find some place to hunt. This means they will move into territories where there may be plenty of hunters right now to satisfy the local residents. What will happen then remains to be seen. One thing is sure, it will call for much more judgement on the part of hunters everywhere this fall, in the hunting field as well as in the populated areas.

All of this goes to emphasize once again that the old days of open hunting rapidly are growing fewer in the mid-west.

Somehow we feel that in addition to selling shotguns and shells we might do a considerable business if we stocked copies of "How To Win Friends and Influence People". It is a cinch hunters are going to need some such manual as things are getting tougher.

(Hear Jack Maypole over WJJD at 8:40 a.m. M-F).

To keep fresh milk at its best, keep it clean, cold, covered and in the dark, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reminds homemakers. Milk holds both nutrition value and flavor best when kept cold. Stored near the freezing unit of the refrigerator, it can be expected to keep good quality and flavor for three to four days, perhaps longer.

THEY GAMBLE WITH DEATH

The curb-stepping little fellow has the right idea. He's making sure no cars are coming before he and his friend cross the street on the way to school.

School teachers, police and traffic safety officials all try to help our school children learn pedestrian safety rules along with the three R's. Joining with those groups, Liberty Mutual Insurance Company suggests that parents can help a great deal by teaching through example. Your children and you, too, should:

1. Look both ways before crossing streets.
2. Never jaywalk.

3. Cross streets only on properly designated crosswalks.
4. Respect and obey signals of the traffic policeman or safety officer on duty.
5. At intersections regulated by traffic lights, cross only with the pedestrian light.
6. Insist that children play their games in schoolyards or at home, not in the street.

And, as a driver, you can help, too, during the school year by driving slowly and cautiously when passing schools or playgrounds. Keep this question always in mind, "Would I want to be behind the wheel of the car that hit him?"

OVER NIGHT CAMP

Intermediate Girl Scout troop 334 have spent several weeks preparing for their first overnight camping trip.

Under the direction of Mrs. Erwin Fun, licensed camper for South Cook county council, the girls of the troop have been instructed in making bed rolls, care of lanterns, menu planning, proper use of ax and knife and other things pertinent to living in the out of doors.

The group, working under the patrol system, will stay at Camp Thorn creek in South Willow woods, near Thornton. This is the Girl Scout camp for the area. There is complete police protection at all times. The barracks are winterized, heated and equipped with metal bunks. There will be other troops occupying barracks at the camp on this weekend also. Scouts will cook their meals outdoors.

Mrs. Harry VerWey, licensed first aider, will accompany the troop as will Mrs. Ernest Yepen and Mrs. Harold Zobac, troop leaders.

Tinley Girl Scouts

Falling leaves and the smell of wood smoke made the Tinley Creek woods the proper setting for a Tinley Park Girl Scout fly-up ceremony Oct. 6.

Mrs. Lillian Zawadzki who formerly was leader of Brownie troop 238, now is leader of the newly formed Intermediate troop 507 with Mrs. Elias Macle, co-leader.

Eighteen Brownies were in the fly-up from four troops; namely, troop 97, Mrs. Harry VerWey, leader; troop 239, Mrs. Eugene Anderson; troop 238 and troop 333, Mrs. Chas. McCutchen. Awaiting the girls as they repeated the Girl Scout laws, was the Neighborhood chairman, Mrs. Elmer Knudsen who welcomed them into the intermediate troop.

New intermediate troop 507 will meet at the American Legion hall. Brownie troop 238 will have Mrs. Henry Johnson for leader, and Mrs. Wilma Owens, co-leader. The fly up ceremony followed a cookout, each troop preparing its own meal.

NEW BALER "MEASURES" HAY

Here's a baler that measures hay so that farmers get "square" bales every time for better handling and curing. The Hayliner, product of New Holland Machine Company, does not choke or jam. A slip-clutch prevents it. The new baler, now in production, turns out bales anywhere from a foot to 4-1/3 feet in length. The farmer decides what length bale he wants and makes a simple adjustment to get it.

Music to Play Big Part In Lutheran Hour

The program for the gigantic Lutheran Hour rally, to be held Sunday afternoon, Oct. 21, at 3 o'clock, in the International Amphitheatre of Chicago, has just been released.

This will be a one and one-half hour inspirational service commemorating the 24th consecutive season of broadcasting of the Lutheran Hour, the world's most extensive religious broadcast.

The feature will be an address by the Rev. Dr. Oswald C. J. Hoffmann of New York. He is the regular Lutheran Hour speaker. His subject will be the rally theme, "Christ For Every Crisis."

The entire congregation will open with the hymn of faith, "A Mighty Fortress is Our God." Later the capacity audience of 13,000 will also sing other stirring chorals, including "Beautiful Savior."

Several specialty numbers will be offered by the children's chorus of 1,500, under the direction of Werner von Behren, 1259 West 86th street, Chicago.

A massed choir of 2,000 adult voices will be led by Carlos Messerli, 5904 South Troy, Chicago. He will also lead the combined groups.

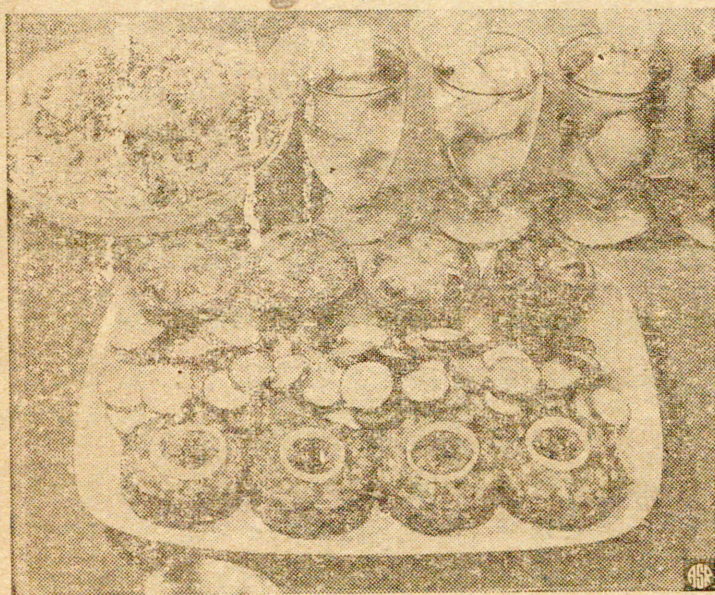

The entire assembly will pledge Allegiance to Christ and Allegiance to Our Country. A 16-piece brass ensemble, made up of students from Luther High South, and directed by William Bertram of Elmhurst, will play fanfares with the raising of Christian and American flags.

Accompaniment will be provided by George E. Nottke of Elmhurst, on the organ. He will also play the prelude, voluntary, and postlude.

This rally is sponsored by the Lutheran Laymen's League of Northern Illinois. The public is invited.

All alumni are cordially invited to attend the homecoming festivities.

Meals in Minutes With Canned Meat

Here's a dinner ready from start to finish in 30 minutes with canned corned beef hash as the mainstay and with tomato halves and zucchini as the vegetable fillip.

By knowing canned meat choices, you can increase menu ideas the short and easy summer-way. Some 113 different products are offered ranging from baby food meats to wieners; from small cans of potted and deviled meat spreads to 12-ounce luncheon meat, to big 14-pound hams. A pantry shelf supply of meats in cans permits quick menu variety.

The trick for the 30-minute dinner is a simple baking sheet assembly job. Zucchini slices are foil-wrapped and baked for 15 minutes while you open the can of meat and fix the tomatoes. The meat and tomatoes bake the last 15 minutes of cooking time along with the zucchini.

30 Minute Dinner

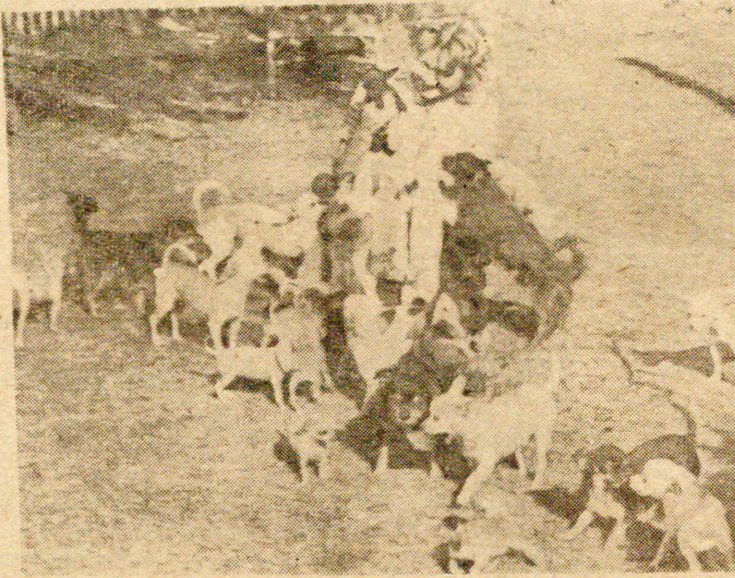

1½ pounds zucchini 1 can (1 pound) corned beef hash
4 tablespoons butter 2 tomatoes or margarine, divided ¼ teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon oregano

Wash zucchini; cut in ¼-inch slices. Place in 24-inch long strip of aluminum foil. Dot with 3 tablespoons of the butter; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Wrap aluminum foil around zucchini; seal tightly. Place on baking sheet. Bake in a very hot oven, (500°F.) 15 minutes. While zucchini is baking, open can of corned beef hash at both ends to remove in one piece. Cut into four slices. Cut tomatoes in half. Dot with remaining 1 tablespoon butter; sprinkle with salt, pepper, sugar and oregano. Place corned beef slices and tomato halves on baking sheet with zucchini. Reduce heat to a hot oven, (450°F.) and bake 15 minutes longer.

YIELD: 4 servings.

Tinley Couple Pyramids One Pet Into Kennel of Prize Winners

by Mercia McCutchen

The purchase of one Chihuahua for a pet about seven years ago, has developed into a business which occupies most of Mrs. Clarence Lane's time, and certainly all of Mr. Lane's spare time. Lane's Chihuahuas, as the kennels are called, are located at 76th ave. and 183rd st., Tinley Park and at present house 50 of these little creatures.

Chihuahuas are said to be the only native North American dog, being originally domesticated by the Mexican Indians in the state of Chihuahua, Mexico and it is believed they had a significant part in the religious ceremonies. It might be of interest to know that the first Chihuahua was brought into this country by Owen Wister, the novelist.

They are a very affectionate dog and in spite of being diminutive, are quite hardy. Litters consist of one to five pups, occasionally six and are about the size of small new born kittens at birth, weighing 3 to 4 ounces. They are considered mature at seven months.

Most everyone is acquainted with the short hair Chihuahua, but there is also a long hair variety which has found favor with those who like dogs with a long silky coat, but compact to fit our streamlined way of life.

The Lanes can point with pride to the cups and ribbons which their dogs have been awarded. And well they might be proud of their achievement for they have devoted long hours of work and study to that the first Chihuahua was before a dog leaves the kennels it has been inoculated and is in tip top condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Lane have one son, Fred, 12 years old, who is very interested in the Chihuahuas. Clarence Lane is employed by the Blue Island Tinley Park dairy.

Since 1950, Red Cross volunteers have spent 41,000,000 hours while directly serving servicemen, veterans and their families an average of more than 8,000,000 volunteer hours per year.

In 1955, the American Red Cross gave $13,394,100 in financial assistance to servicemen, veterans and their dependents.

Begin Casting For Comedy at Bremen High

"Our Hearts Were Young and Gay", a comedy, adapted for the stage by Jean Kerr from the best seller of the same name, will be the first production offered by the Bremen Community high school Troupers. Miss Mildred Ellington, director of the first production has started casting.

The Bremen trouper's production of "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" will be a bit unusual. The play will be staged "in the round." This method of production, while not new, is coming back into vogue. The play will be given November 9.

Success Crowns Mrs. Bridge's First Venture Into Business

By Anne Rodger

Skogmos Apparel Shop is the only store in Tinley Park catering exclusively to the clothing needs of the entire family. Men's women's, children's and infants' clothing is stocked in large of garments and sizes. A good assortment of linens and yard goods is also carried.

The store is privately owned, but affiliated with the national concern of Gamble-Skogmos. Skogmos handles the clothing department and Gamble, home appliances and hardware.

"The local store is in direct competition with and can compete with any of the catalog stores" says Mrs. Robert Bridge owner.

Mrs. Bridge opened the store three years ago. It is her first business venture.

She employs one full-time assistant and two part time employees.

Born in Chicago, the pleasant friendly store owner, has lived in Tinley Park for ten years. Her husband, Robert, is a volunteer fireman and operates the Tinley emergency inhalator squad. They have two daughters Robin, a high school junior, and Trudy, 12, who is a seventh grade student in the Tinley Park school.

Mrs. Bridge is secretary of quantities, covering all ranges the Tinley Park Retail Council.

New Type Machine For Baling Hay Available Soon

A new baler that measures hay with almost the same care farmers use in measuring feed for livestock, is now in production and will soon be available to area farmers at Yunker Implement Co. in Orland Park.

The Hayliner, according to Mr. Yunker, produces bales with even slices—just like loaves of bread.

The local dealer explained the new baler's action this way:

As the hay is picked up in the field, it is fed into a baling chamber by six forks. The forks, traveling in a ferris-wheel motion, take a "bite" each time they come down on the hay. This moves just enough hay into the chamber to make one slice of the bale.

The result of years of planning and field testing, the new machine brings to average-size farms greater baling capacity in the small baler class. By a simple adjustment, Mr. Yunker says, it can spit out its bales in lengths from one foot to 4 1/3 feet.

The dealer says the new baler treats the hay so gently that most of the protein-filled leaves now go into the bale.

Tinley Chrysler Dealer Views Line For 1957

Al Schudt, owner of Schudt Motor Sales, Tinley Park, has just returned from Chicago where Broadway stars from "Kismet", "South Pacific" and "My Fair Lady" previewed for him the 1957 Chrysler and Imperial automobiles which will go on display in his showroom Tuesday Oct. 30.

E. C. Quinn, president of Chrysler Corporation, pointed out that road-hugging 1957 Chryslers and Imperials feature such styling and engineering innovations as twin headlights, 3-speed pushbutton TorqueFlite transmission, revolutionary new TorsionAir suspension and 14 inch wheels.

Mr. Schudt also previewed a low and rakish silhouette for 1957, with some models lowered as much as five inches. He saw how soaring outward-canted tail fins create the sleek appearance for a poised dart, the styling concept common in advanced aircraft, racing cars and racing boats.

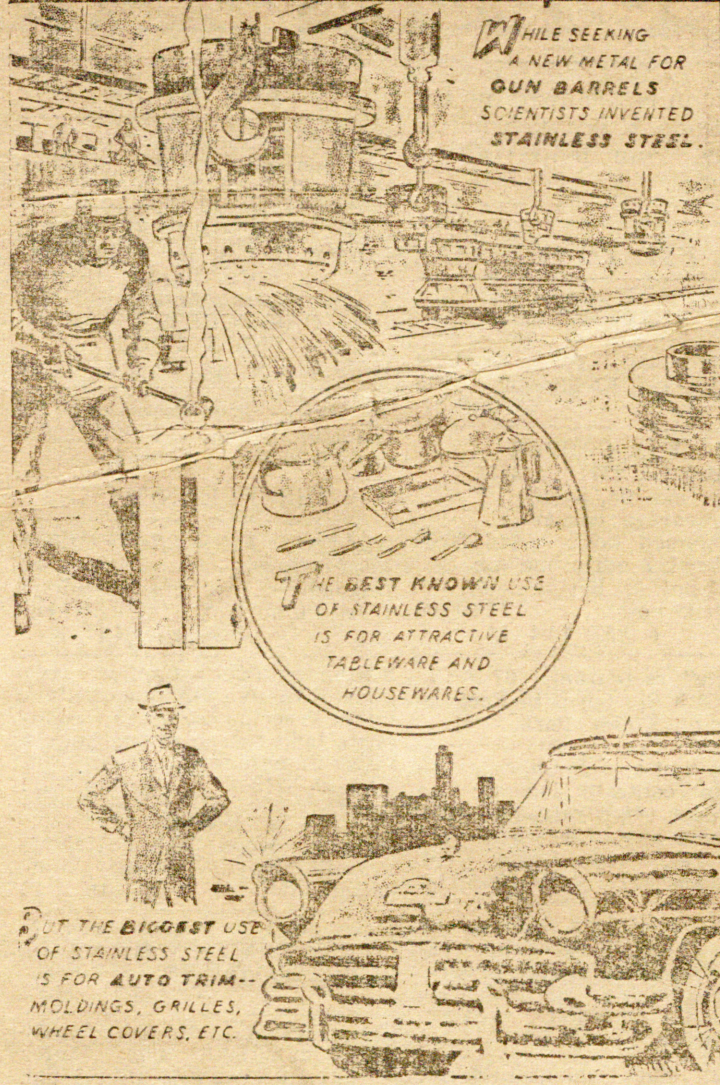

A cast of six Broadway personalities helped show the cars and entertained the group with a musical revue staged for Chrysler by Rodgers and Hammerstein director John Fearnley.

The meeting was one of 17 held thruout the United States during October for more than 3,000 Chrysler dealers.

Chicago Water Rates In For Raise, Report

(Community News Service) Budgets of Chicagoans - and of suburbs that buy their water from Chicago - may have to accommodate a water rate increase as high as 50 per cent.

ODDLY ENOUGH by WALDMAN

next year.

That is the prediction of Chicago Water Commissioner James Jardine. Jardine revealed that water department engineers are now attempting to determine the exact amount the water rate should be raised.

Chicago now charges 12 cents a thousand gallons for water—both to its residents and to those communities which buy water from Chicago and resell it to their property owners.

That, said Jardine, is probably the lowest water rate in the world—made possible, he explains, largely by two factors:

First, the large supply immediately available from Lake Michigan; second, the fact that most of Chicago's water mains and equipment were installed years ago, long before the costs of labor and materials had zoomed to their present heights.

A private firm of consulting engineers has recommended a 50 per cent increase in Chicago's water rate. The increase would meet some of the increased costs of water works construction. It would also make it possible to save interest costs on water certificates by paying for more new construction directly from water rate receipts, Jardine declared.

Jardine said he expects his engineers to have completed their study of the problem by the end of 1956. Their recommendations will then be presented to city controller Carl Chatters and Mayor Richard Daley for their approval.

An okay from the city council would put the higher rate into effect early next year.

The ordinary Chicago homeowner, Jardine commented, would not mind the higher rate much more than noticeable. He explained that an average home probably uses no more than three or four thousand gallons of water a month—would have to pay no more than 18 or 24 cents additional after the new rate takes effect.

The effect on industrial budgets would be more serious, Jardine conceded. And suburbs which elected to maintain their profit margin on the resale to their residents of the water might find a good deal of consumer resistance to the step.

DO NOT HANDLE SYNTHETICS LIKE COTTONS

The introduction of the many new blends of synthetic and natural fibers into the washable textile field can cause housewives many headaches.

Laundrying and textile technicians at American Institute of Laundrying, research and educational center for the professional laundry industry, point out that cottons have set the pace for housewives on maintenance procedures. Many housewives tend to treat all garments as though they were cotton. This will result in trouble both in washing

Combination Door Special

$31.95 Less Grill

Cooper Supply

143RD & ROUTE 7

Orland Park - FI 9-3000

and finishing.

For example, a great number of cotton nylon blends are used in washables today. If such a garment is dried in an automatic drier, the fabric may have wrinkles set in it by the spinner. If the garment is ironed with a cotton setting, the nylon in the blend can be damaged by heat.

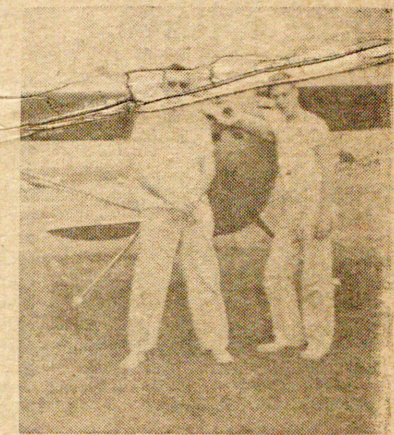

As a general rule, A.I.L. authorities advise handling according to the capabilities of the synthetic in a blend. This means that if a nylon is in the blend, the temperature of the washing water should be less hot than if the garment was 100 percent cotton. It also means that the synthetic setting should be used during ironing.

Procedures and methods in professional laundries take these characteristics into consideration. A.I.L. has developed methods and techniques for handling synthetics. These procedures are passed on to member laundries. A.I.L. member laundries can be recognized by their A.I.L. membership emblem.

Alfalfa is pretty greedy for plant food. Each ton of alfalfa you cut removes about 12 lbs. of phosphorus and 45 lbs. of potash. That means an annual top dressing of fertilizer is a necessity.

Card of Thanks

It is impossible to express our heartfelt thanks for the wonderful way in which our relatives, friends and neighbors came to our assistance at the time of our recent bereavement, in the death of our son and brother, Norman Triem. We also want to thank the Rev. Erich Bizer for his comforting words; the organist and singer and also for the floral offerings and memorial gifts. THE PH. P TRIEM FAMILY, Frankfort

We wish to express our sincere thanks to the Tinley Park inhalator squad for their help when our baby, Tracy, had convulsions Sept. 19. MR. and MRS. DEAN PETTIT, Tinley Park.

Many sincere thanks to the relatives and friends who sent me cards and gifts at the hospital and since I am at home. Also to Rev. Erich Bizer for his prayers.

Begin Work on Rebuilding of The Shopping Bag

Work on rebuilding The Shopping Bag, the Mokena supermarket that was destroyed by fire Sept. 23, has been commenced by Robert Fredin, contractor and owner of the building.

Much of the walls of the original building can be used in its restoration, so the width will be the same but the length is being extended 25 feet, thus providing additional shopping space.

Ralph Thoresen, owner and operator of The Shopping Bag, has equipment and fixtures on order so they can be installed as soon as work on the building is completed.

Ill. Bell Forms New Exchange

Mokena, Frankfort and New Lenox are now a part of the Lockport area exchange of the Illinois Bell Telephone Co., the creation of which will lighten the managerial load that until now has been carried by Joliet.

The manager for the new area is Howard Gramm, who has been serving as such for the Effingham area. The exchanges under his jurisdiction, besides those already mentioned, will be Lockport, Braidwood, Elwood, Lemont, Plainfield and Wilmington.

Gramm has been with the telephone company for 27 years. A native of Chicago he began his service with the company as an office boy in the accounting department. There he became a junior clerk and then promoted to district collector. Gramm was transferred to Kankakee in 1944 as commercial representative and in 1947 went to Champaign as a service engineer. The next year he was promoted to manager at Effingham and remained there until his present promotion. The Gramms have a 15-year-old daughter, Karen, and the family will move to the area as soon as possible.

Robert F. McQueen, the manager at Joliet since 1947, will continue in that capacity. With the new division of communities McQueen will be able to concentrate his activities to Joliet.

Frankfort Bank To Close Thursdays After November 1

Beginning Nov. 1, the Frankfort State bank will not do business on Thursdays.

The institution will be closed on Thursday, a spokesman for the bank explained, to conform with wage and hour regulations and the five-day week schedule which prevails among other banks in the area.

Under the new schedule the Frankfort State bank will be open for business from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Fridays, and Saturdays, except on legal holidays.

Death Claims Charles Schoen

Charles Schoen, 90 years old, former Green Garden township farmer, died Sunday, Oct. 7, at the Smith nursing home in Joliet where he had been a patient for the past five months.

Surviving Mr. Schoen are a son and daughter, William, of Frankfort, and Mrs. Max Kaehler, of Lincoln Estates, three grandchildren and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at St. Peter's church, Frankfort, with the Rev. Erich Bizer officiating. Burial was in Twining cemetery, Green Garden.

Amvet Post and Auxiliary Will Install Staffs

Annual installation of officers of Five Point post No. 183, Amvets and its Woman's Auxiliary will be held in Mokena Sunday afternoon in VFW hall.

The program is to begin at 5 o'clock.

Donald Stolfus, of Champaign, a past state commander of the Amvets, will install the post officers while Mrs. Inez Swoboda, of Danville, present state president of the auxiliary, will install the women elected to office in the Mokena auxiliary.

Following the ceremonies will be free dancing and refreshments.

The affair is open to the public.

VFW—

The set will sell for $3.75 and will be delivered immediately by the sales crew. The price, it was pointed out, is only slightly above cost figures. Any profits that may accrue will go into the VFW treasury but Mr. Zugenbuehler stated that the distribution of flags among the homes was the prime objective of the campaign and that the post was not conducting the sale as a money maker.

Sales crews will be made up tonight at a meeting of the post and each will be supplied with flags so they can begin their canvass Monday evening. It is planned to carry on with the sale during the entire week.

Mr. Zugenbuehler said that in event any person is away from home in the evening or may be missed by the sales crews, can order a flag by telephoning his home. The number is Mokena 3352.

DENNIS NORTON—

Norton was granted a stay of sentence by the court until next Monday.

The court order covering the sentence will require that Norton pay the $300 fine before he finishes his jail term and failing that will have to serve it out according to the State's Attorney.

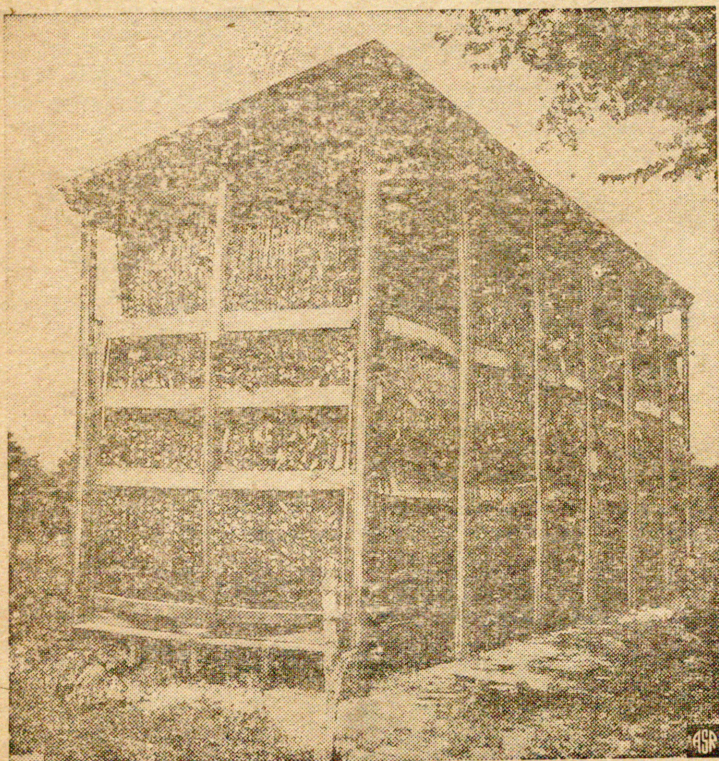

State's Attorney Masters explained that under the state law governing driver's licenses an operator permit cannot be revoked after conviction on a reckless driving charge unless there has been three such convictions of record within a year. Masters would have asked for revocation of Norton's driver's license had it been legally possible to do so, he said. Notice of Norton's conviction will be forwarded to the Secretary of State's office at Springfield.

ANOTHER IRON CURTAIN?

Farmers Need Corn Crib

Midwestern farmers traditionally store huge amounts of corn for feed, for government loans and for possible higher prices.

This seasonal need for more corn cribs creates a problem for Corn Belt farmers who must build and harvest in the same busy season. Pole-type corn cribs are filling the requirements on many farms because of their speed of erection as well as low cost. They also fit well into modern farm mechanical handling operations.

Because they are built on a framework of poles, pole-type corn cribs cost less than conventional buildings. They can be permanent and have superior wind resistance, but the farmer can also easily convert the wooden structures to other uses as his plans change.

Pole-type corn cribs are most economical if the building materials are durable and sturdy. Length of service will depend primarily on the decay and insect resistance of the poles that are used. Modern chemicals such as pentachlorophenol are being recommended to give longer pole life. Poles treated with this preservative have the advantages of being clean and easy to handle, especially in hot weather.

Plans for pole-type corn cribs are readily available from state agricultural colleges, county agents, lumber dealers and pole-building contractors.

An Income Tax Under Any Other Name Can Be Just As Steep

One of the major points of dispute in the debate over the proposed revenue amendment on the Blue Ballot involves a payroll or earnings tax—which is in effect a non-graduated income tax.

The statement by Mayor Daley, reported in the Sept. 16, 1956, issue of a Chicago newspaper "that the revenue amendment has nothing to do with a payroll tax" is the kind of argument presented by supporters of the Blue Ballot who say that warning of possible payroll tax represents scare tactics, the Taxpayers Information Council declares.

The fact is that the proposed Blue Ballot amendment has everything to do with a payroll or non-graduated income tax, Council spokesmen say, and offers statements made by Mayor Daley himself in May, 1955, when every Chicago newspaper published reports indicating two things clearly:

1. The Mayor wants a payroll or earnings tax on all incomes earned in Chicago;
2. The constitutionality of such a tax being so questionable, Mayor Daley and his advisers want the Blue Ballot revenue amendment adopted so that they can legally pass a non-ment of city dwellers to the suburbs.

However, city election board officials say Chicago's registration total will be just as large or larger than the 1952 presidential election year.

Chicago election clerk, Jack Przybylinski (Preblinski), says that an average of 75 persons a day are registering at the city election board office. This is slightly higher than the daily registrations four years ago but Przybylinski points out that it has not been consistent and that some days more than 100 persons may register while on other days only 40 or 50 voters come in.

Said Przybylinski, "I think it is too early to say just how heavy registration will be but so far it does look like it will be just as big as it was in 1952.

He said he expects a heavy upsurge in the number of registrants during the first week of October.

The Chicago election board will not register anyone after October 8. But there will be one day of registration at the 3,779 city and 258 town precinct polling places which will be open for registration from 8 am.

to 9 pm. October 9. After that the books close and the canvass starts.

The way of the transgressor may be hard, but it isn't lonely.

Youths May Now Serve 6 Months In Armed Forces

Parents who have a son 17 to 18½ years of age, or one nearing that age bracket, should be vitally interested in knowing about the Reserve Forces Act of 1955 and how that act affects your boy.

In short, the plan offers your son the unique opportunity of serving just six months of active duty in the army in lieu of an otherwise minimum term of 24 months active duty service.

It is inevitable that all physically fit young men who have not served their military obligation will most certainly see service. Under the provisions of the armed forces act, the choice is given to your son and to you as a parent whether that service will be six months at a time in your boy's life when he has little or no obligations, or for 2 or more years later in his life when his obligations might easily be many.

This plan was designed primarily to interfere least with your son's life; therefore, if you would rather see your boy serve six months than two years or more, I would be glad to answer any questions that you may have concerning this new act and what your boy must do to qualify for the program. I would prefer arrangement of meetings by postcard. If your time is limited, then phone New Lenox 4236 and ask for Raymond G. Webster, local USAR recruiter or write him at box 627, New Lenox.

Predicts Increase Voters Registration

Cook county clerk Edward Barrett predicts a 20 percent increase in registration of voters in the country towns and unincorporated areas under the jurisdiction of the county election board.

Barrett estimates that 525 thousand voters will have registered as against only 327 thousand who were registered for the 1952 presidential election.

Barrett attributes the expected increase to the mass move-

A friend of ours calls her electric dryer "automatic sunshine" because electric heat is so bright and radiant.

You can wash when you want to and be sure your clothes will dry soft, sweet-smelling every time. No fumes, no dried-in-the basement odor.

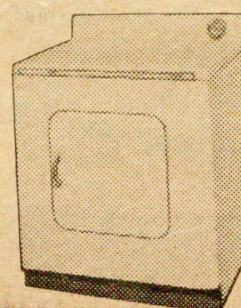

All electric dryers are fully automatic and give you the driest heat there is. You can do a load of cottons in 25 to 30 minutes. (Takes only 6¢ worth of electricity!)

You'll notice that all the "no-vent" dryers are electric. Heat, lint and moisture just disappear down the drain.

Isn't it time you took a look at the new automatic electric dryers?

Business Education

The department of business at Carl Sandburg high school is currently staffed by three members whose teaching experience totals thirty-four years. Each one holds both the degree of bachelor of science and master of science.

Miss Leona Munzomaier this fall begins her second year at the high school, having previously taught at Maevstown, Crossville, Dupo, and Dwight, Ill. This year she is teaching beginning typewriting and working with the National Honor society.

Miss Munzomaier

Miss Munzenmaier received a master of science degree from Western Illinois State college and a bachelor of arts degree from Greenville college. She has also attended the University of Colorado, the University of Wisconsin, Gregg College, and Mound City college. She is a member of the National, Ill., and Chicago Area Business Educators associations, as well as the National and Illinois Education associations.

James Adcock, who came to our high school from Litchfield high school, Litchfield, Ill., was graduated from Milan high school, then worked for the Government before entering the armed services. After returning to civilian life, he was graduated from Murray State college with a bachelor of science degree in business education. He also received his master of arts from Murray State college with a major in administration and supervision.

Here he is teaching typewriting and bookkeeping. In addition to his regular teaching assignment, he is the counselor for the freshman class.

Mrs. Robert Bimm started her teaching career in Sibley, Ill. After one year in that system, she came to Orland Park where she taught in the Orland Park High School until the Carl Sandburg consolidation. This year her eleventh year of teaching.

Mrs. Bimm was granted the bachelor of science degree and the master of science degree by Western State college. She is a member of the national, Illinois and Chicago Area Business Educators Association, as well as of the National Education Association and the Illinois Education Association. She is currently teaching classes in advanced typewriting, beginning shorthand, advanced shorthand and transcription and office practice. She also serves as senior counselor.

FHA Area Meeting

Last Monday the officers and department chairman of Sandburg's Future Homemakers of America chapter met with officers of fifteen other schools in this area for the annual fall training conference. The meeting was at Joliet high school. Mrs. L. J. Neuneker, chapter advisor and Mrs. Hilda Geuther, chapter teacher attended the section teachers meeting that ran at the same time.

Judy Hodges, president; Charlene Sippel, vice president; Jewel LeFevre, secretary; Arlene Ullsmith, treasurer; Mary Jo Macandar, historian; Janet Maue, degree chairman; Doretta Lucas, recreation and Audrey Woodman, projects chairman represented the Sandburg chapter at the meeting.

Carol Macander, Section 20 public relations chairman led a group discussion to assist others in learning to spot and write news stories and to plan other forms of publicity.

Atoms for Peace

Joan Aulwurm, Carol Glowacki, Ronald Gawlick, John Hodges, Tom Holz, Loretta Hansen, Kay Ireland, John Krep-ton, Lee Martin, Carol Nielson, Craig Reuter, Dick Schmaedeke, Joe Simaetis, Owen White and Art Hannig accompanied by Don Hopkins of the science department spent Thursday, Sept. 27 at Navy Pier where the Chicago Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring the "Atoms for Peace" conference. The group had an opportunity to view exhibits of nuclear reactors, and heard speakers from industry outline the career opportunities in the fields of science and engineering. These students are all taking chemistry or physics at Sandburg.

Band Day Program

The Carl Sandburg High School Band was one of 64 bands at the Northwestern Tulane football game last Saturday, as party of the second annual high school band day program. Sandburg also participated last year.

A total of 4,639 band students and 518 members of color guard and drill teams were featured in this spectacular display. Lockport had the largest band with 120 member; South Beloit has the smallest with 34 members. Sandburg sent 65 players.

Homemakers Plan Trip

The Homemaking 3 classes of Carl Sandburg High School taught by Mrs. Lorna Neuneker and the special class for senior girls, with no previous Homemaking, taught by Mrs. Hilda Geuther have arranged for a visit and demonstration at Patricia Stevens finishing school in Chicago.

The group of thirty girls will observe the basis of good health habits, posture exercises and other factors essential to good grooming. They will make the trip by school bus. To tie this trip in the future unit in foreign cookery a committee is arranging for dinner in Chinatown.

Booted and Spurred

The charge that city manager form of government is a step toward dictator type government appears to be born out by the situation in Joliet.

The city manager there, Chester B. Lewis, has issued a directive to all city employees prohibiting them from criticizing the city manager, the members of the council or any of their so-called superiors.

Any violation of this gag rule apparently means dismissal of the employee, as the story concerning same which was carried in an issue of the Joliet Herald-News last week stated that the council members gave their blessing to the directive with an "or else" ultimatum.

Too many public officials are becoming imbued with the idea that they are above criticism and that Mr. Lewis and the Joliet city council have clapped a muzzle on employees their move probably will be to silence critics among the rank and file residents of the community.

We wonder if the rule now imposed on Joliet city workers could at sometime make them accessories after the fact? Suppose a worker discovered that one of his superiors had his hand up to here in the public till? To make such knowledge public could—and probably would—be construed by the superior as detrimental to the city as well as himself and so the poor worker would be faced with the alternative of being fired if he did or jailed if he didn't.

The Constitution of the United States makes no mention of a President's Cabinet.

Lewis Students Open Lounge

The grand opening of the student lounge and snack bar at Lewis college at Lockport last week highlighted the social activity calendar at that institution. Dick Soich, president of the student government body, estimated there were 375 in attendance. Special honored guests were: the president of the college, Brig. General Paul X. English, U.S.A. (Ret.) and Mrs. English, the Rev. Harold Thompson, dean of men, Miss Kathleen Collins, dean of women, and faculty members Robert Sullivan and Robert Graham. Many Lewis College alumni and St. Francis college students were also guests.

The grand opening was an activity of the Lewis student government.

H-bomb Tests Vital to CD

The sky momentarily lights with the brilliance of a hundred suns, and then, within seconds, returns to the more subdued hues of a tropical dawn.

Another Hydrogen bomb test. More specifically, Operation Redwing, Cherokee shot.

AS THE PYROTECHNICS die away, there begins the real work of checking instruments, analyzing data, comparing Cherokee with former tests. Scientists in concrete bunkers only 20 miles from Ground Zero quickly begin to read their instruments. Planes, ships and rockets check the intensity of radioactive fallout and other effects of the blast.

Aboard a ship, the USS Mt. McKinley, about 37 miles from the blast, a party of Federal Civil Defense Administration observers remove their dark goggles. They, and others like them, must patiently wait for the scientists.

But they know that when the scientists have toted up the score, it will fall to them to refine existing techniques of population evacuation and shelter—perhaps devise new ones—to assure survival of the greatest number of persons if some day an American sky lights up like a hundred suns.

DATA-COLLECTING instruments canisters are checked by a technician before they are dropped by parachute from a B-36 seconds prior to the actual H-bomb drop during Operation Redwing. Blast effects information from such equipment is valuable to civil defense in planning means of protection against atomic or hydrogen war. (JOTI Photo)

For the Big New Kind of Ford is a brilliant new automotive package—the one fine car in the low-price field!

We've unwrapped the 1957 Fords!

They're the best Fords of our lives.

The power is new—with Silver Anniversary V-8's to fit every horsepower need.

The style is new—a revolutionary, sharp, brilliant, clear-cut design that will stand out in traffic.

The comfort is new—a rock-solid velvet-road ride.

The braking is positive — silky smooth when your toe says "whoa." The steering is light and firm.

This is a great automobile, from the large honest dial faces on the instrument panel to the effortless loafing way it cruises.

The new Ford begins with the "InnerFord." Its new elegance comes from within, from the way its automotive muscles are put together. All the changes are toward more rugged endurance, toward increased power, toward smoother operation. These are the bases for its "Mark of Tomorrow" elegance. This is the one fine car in the low-price field.

There are actually 19 different new kinds of Ford—and no matter which one you choose, it's yours at low Ford prices!

How does it look? It's only fourteen hands high—as tall as a child's pony. You can stand beside it and lean your elbows on its roof. And it's over seventeen feet long . . . 21 inches wider than it is high!

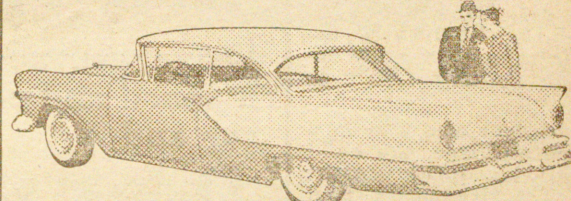

This big new Ford looks like the fun on a travel poster. It's the kind of car that looks sunshiny in the rain.

It looks as fresh as morning.

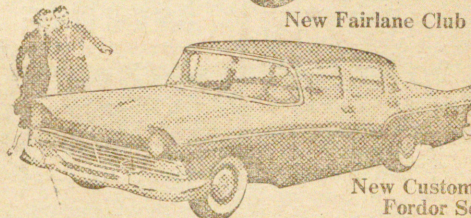

It looks like tomorrow—like the first thing out of Detroit that symbolizes the new Age of Movement.

SATAN TREMBLES
By George Peck

(Editor's Note: George Peck is Chairman of the Laymen's National Committee, sponsor of National Sunday School and Bible Weeks.)

To the Elmer Times, a weekly newspaper published at Elmer, New Jersey, I am indebted for the following jingle which appeared in its 1956 Almanac: It refers to a sign placed in a book store window which boosted Bibles sales:

"Holy Scripture, Writ Divine
At a dollar forty-nine;

Satan trembles when he sees Bibles sold as cheap as these." Well, his Satanic Majesty must right now be shivering in his boots. It's a panicky feeling that attacks him in October of each year. For that is the week during which National Bible Week is observed, sponsored by the Laymen's National Committee, 16th annual observance of this the All-Faiths organization. The important event is from October 15-21 this year. No wonder the Devil shivers and shakes, for right well he knows that the interest of many Americans will be attracted to the Bible and many thousands of others will have their interest rekindled. And Satan further knows the power of God's Holy Book when men and women put it to work to combat his evil machinations.

Mr. Melvin H. Baker, Board Chairman of National Gypsum Company, Buffalo, N.Y., is serving as National Chairman for National Bible Week this year. In accepting the assignment, Mr. Baker said, "I am happy to do this job because all people should study the Bible, which is the foundation for our civilization. Shortly we will be asking leading men and women in 500 different communities to become chairmen of groups in each of their respective communities. Newspapers, magazines, radio stations, theatres, churches, schools and other public groups across the nation will be asked to take part in this great campaign. I'm sure we can anticipate the support of all in carrying our message to a maximum number of people.

"Through this effort, we hope to provoke interest in Bible reading. In these busy times when there is so much confusion, it is my hope that we may take time out to reinforce our spiritual knowledge and, in so doing, find the answer to many perplexing issues. Aside from comfort to be had in our day-to-day troubles, much can be gained to bring peace if the people throughout the world approach the international issue through spiritual teachings of the Savior. This can all be found in the Good Book."

The theme for National Bible Week 1956, October 15-21, is "THE BIBLE—TIMELESS AND ETERNAL." How true that is! It is the world's perennial Best Seller. Its New Testament tells the story of the greatest character who ever lived. James A. Francis, D.D., beautifully describes Him in a short essay entitled, "One Solitary Life," as follows:

"Here is a man who was born in an obscure village, the child of a woman who, to her peasant neighbors, was just one of them and one with them. He grew up in another village. He worked in a carpenter shop until he was thirty, and then, for three years, he was an itinerant preacher. He never wrote a book. He never held an office. He never owned a home. He never had a family. He never traveled two hundred miles from the place where he was born. He never did one of the things that usually accompany greatness. He had no credentials but himself.

"While still a young man the tide of private opinion turned against him. His friends ran away. One of them denied him. He was turned over to his enemies. He went through the mockery of a trial. He was nailed to a cross between two thieves. As he was dying, his executioners gambled for the only piece of property he had on earth, and that was his coat. When he was dead he was taken down and laid in a borrowed grave through the pity of a friend. His name was Jesus. . . .

"Nineteen wide centuries have come and gone and today He is the centerpiece of the human race and the leader of the column of progress.

"I am far within the mark when I say that all the armies that ever marched, and all the navies that were ever built, and all the parliaments that ever sat and all the kings that ever reigned, put together have not affected the life of man on this earth as has that One Solitary Life!"

Along Scout Trails

Change Meeting Date

The monthly neighborhood meeting of Girl Scout leaders in Mokena will be held this Friday, Oct. 12, instead of the usual third Tuesday of the month. The meeting time is 1:30 at the home of Mrs. Rudolph Englehardt.

It was necessary to change the date of the meeting so plans could be made for father's day at Channa Chalet on the afternoon of Sunday, Oct. 14, beginning 1:00 p.m. Fathers of girl scouts of Mokena have been asked by Trailways Council to put new roofing on the large shelter at Channa Chalet. This shelter has been in need of a new roof for some time as many Mokena scouts and leaders can testify.

Mokena scout fathers were asked to contribute labor to this project because of the activity of the Mokena Neighborhood, comprising 136 lively girl scouts and 41 devoted registered adult leaders and committee members. This past summer Mokena was the only neighborhood who sent all of her intermediate troops troop camping at Channa Chalet. The girls thoroughly enjoy these camping experiences and volunteer labor is recruited to keep the cabins and shelter in useable condition.

The fathers will be treated to a cook out and plenty of coffee by their scout daughters. It is suggested that mothers, brothers and sisters, can bring a picnic lunch and use the afternoon as a family outing. There are wooded trails and a waterfront as attractions.

A photographer will be present to record the Mokena fathers at work and our Mokena girl scouts at their cooking chores.

This project is hailed with enthusiasm by the Mokena girls who are proud of their outdoor cooking skill, (just ask the boy scouts) and who look forward to rainy days at Channa Chalet when they won't be moving cots from under roof leaks and setting out pails and kettles to catch the water. One scout sighed and said, "Sometimes I think it's like the man in his cabin who said, 'When it rains it rains mo' inside than it do out'."

Tax Distribution

County Treasurer Herbert Paschen today announced the 13th and 14th tax distribution to local governments totalling $42,837,640.

Cook county got $3,139,195, the forest preserve $476,740, Sanitary district $3,422,875, city of Chicago, $15,990,480, schools $15,742,270 and park district $4,066,080.

Paschen said tax collections are running about the same as last year's record rate. Up to and including September 18th, personal property taxes totalled $52,571,261 as compared with $54,272,562 last year. Real estate taxes collected so far this year are $275,160,399 as compared with 271,930,358 at this time last year.

Paschen said this year's collections still are being processed because of the huge amount of payments that came through the mails.

The county treasurer said the collection figures from the country towns have not been turned into the treasurer's office yet and the final total will equal or exceed last year's collections.

The preamble to the Constitution is the framework of the American concept. This concept offers the individual the freedom to choose his own course of action, rather than to follow the dictates of a "welfare state" or a "planned economy."

This concept offers each of us the opportunity to seek what

The Womans Guild of the Grace Episcopal church will meet Oct. 11 at the home of Mrs. Lucy Mansfield at 8 pm. for its regular monthly meeting with Miss Ethel Tucker as co-hostess. Final plans will be completed for the card party to be held in the parish hall Saturday evening at 8 pm. Oct. 20.

All members of the Grace Episcopal church are urged to attend the potluck dinner to be held next Sunday, Oct. 14 following the regular Holy Communion service which starts at 10:45 am., with the Rev. John McCarty of Evanston as the celebrant. A parish meeting will be held after the dinner, with important affairs of the parish to be discussed.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Carr, Miss Lane and Tom and Joe Weston of Tinley Park spent the weekend in Centralia, Mo. visiting Mrs. Carr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Blackmore.

Mr. and Mrs. Len Anderson entertained Sunday evening, at a birthday supper honoring their daughter, Dotte Jean, and her 15th birthday anniversary. The guests were the Misses Margaret Campbell, Arlene Otis, Evelyn Rowswell of New Lenox, Miss Carol Massey, and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ruettiger and family of Joliet, and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Anderson and family of Lockport.

Mrs. Charles Scheel, Hickory street, is confined to Silver Cross hospital with a fractured hip, suffered in a fall at her home Wednesday night, Oct. 3. Mrs. Scheel, who lived alone, was unable to get up after her fall, and was not discovered until Friday afternoon, when her neighbor Mrs. John Warning, heard a tapping on the window of the Scheel home, when she was out in the yard. After going to the window of the Scheel home, and not being able to understand what Mrs. Scheel was saying, she called to her son, Leonard Warning, who came and took the screen off the window and managed to get into the house. They called Dr. Leo Murskyj who ordered an ambulance and took her to Silver Cross hospital. Xrays were taken Friday to determine the extent of injury.

The Homemakers will meet Thursday afternoon Oct. 25 for their first business meeting of the fall season at the home of Mrs. Carl Fosnaugh, 315 Hebbard st., Joliet. Dessert coffee will be served at 1:30, with Mrs. Arthur Rowswell assisting hostess.

The New Lenox Sportman club will meet Thursday night, Oct. 18 for their regular monthly meeting in the Lions Den. The Friendly Neighbors club will meet Thursday, Oct. 11 at the home of Mrs. Elsie Carter, Cedar road, for a one o'clock luncheon.

Mothers of the kindergarten class, and grades 1 thru 4, are asked to bake for this sale.

A square dance will be held Saturday night, Nov. 3 at the Haven school gym, from 8:30 until 12 o'clock. The dance is being sponsored by the local PTA who will award a Turkey as a prize. There will be a nominal admission fee.

Mrs. William Collatz has returned from Rochester, Minn., where she spent eight days having a check-up at the Mayo clinic. While there she, stayed with the Rev. and Mrs. John Pesrill, formerly of New Lenox who now reside in Rochester. The Rev. Mr. Perrill who was pastor of the local Methodist church for two years, in 1935 and 36, is minister of Chistian Education in the First Methodist church of Rochester.

The New Lenox Garden club met at the home of Mrs. Fred Nusbaumer, with Mrs. Ben Martin and Mrs. Max Greenley as co-hostesses. The program on "Bulb Planting For Indoors" was given by Mrs. Laura Morris. The members potted various bulbs for indoor blooming. Jellies and jams were collected for the Fruit and Flower guild.

Don't forget the annual turkey supper sponsored by the Woman's League of the Trinity Lutheran church in New Lenox, Thursday, Oct. 18, with serving to start at 5 o'clock, and continue at 5:45, 6:30, and again at 7:15. Tickets can be purchased from any member of the league.

Mrs. Ann Krog entertained the members of her card club at her home recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Werner, Pine st. were pleasantly surprised in their new home Saturday night, at a housewarming party, given by several of their friends. The evening was spent informally, and the honored guests were presented with a gift of door chimes, from the group. A supper was served later in the evening. Those attending the party were, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Mangun, Mr. and Mrs. Lew Gates, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Meitsner, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wilda, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Novak, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schroeder and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wajchert, and John Macklin and James Burns.

Above all . . . put on love, which binds everything together in perfect harmony. (Colossians 3:14. RSV.)

In Sweden as I was going to church one Sunday morning, two missionaries asked where the church was. I invited them to go with me, for I was going to the church they wish to attend. On our way they told their story.

They had come from the East. They had gone through much hardship, and had been forced to leave their station and work. In Sweden, on their way home, they found ease and rest.

They had arrived the night before without knowing where they were to stay. They went to the police station, and were brought to the headquarters of the Salvation Army. "Here in this place we found Christian fellowship; we feel that God is in this country," they said. "Do we have the joy of Christian love in our hearts? Are we ready at all times to show kindness and Christian love to those we meet, especially to strangers who are in need?"

PRAYER

God, our Father, Thou art Love. Make our love to Thee pure and holy. Strengthen the love of Christ in us. Help us by love to lessen the hardship and pain in our fellow men. In the name of Christ, who loves all mankind. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Christian love makes the place where we live a blessed place.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The vital importance of applying the rules for living taught and practiced by Christ Jesus will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday, October 14, in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Doctrine of Atonement." Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (37:22-25): "It is possible, yea, it is the duty and privilege of every child man and woman—to follow in some degree the example of the Master by the demonstration of Truth and Life of health and holiness."

The Golden Text is from II Corinthians (5:19): "All things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation."

Girl Scouts Honor Leaders

The Trailways Council of Girl Scouts honored their volunteer Girl Scout Leaders of ten or more years service in scouting and leadership in a ceremony at the annual Council meeting in Kankakee last week.

Six Mokena women are eligible for awards. Mrs. Kenneth Sherwood received her fifteen year pin; Mrs. George Reid, Mrs. Norval Robinson, and Mrs. Arthur Shoon received ten year pins. Mrs. Hugo Niethammer, who has fifteen years leadership in Mokena, and Mrs. John Roesser, who has ten year scouting and leadership, were unable to be present but will receive their pins at a neighborhood meeting.

Others attending the Council meeting from Mokena were: Mrs. Donald Ambuehl, Mrs. Fred Lehmann, Mrs. George Stanisz and Mrs. Rudolph Engelhardt, neighborhood chairman. The meeting was held in an auditorium of the new St. John Evangelical and Reformed church in Kankakee, an interesting and beautiful example of modern church architecture. The entire church was open to those who were interested in seeing it.

No sure-fire method has yet been devised to predict the "short swings" in activities of the securities markets. The general trend of the securities markets will usually be that of general business, as a whole, and the growth of our national economy.

A glance at the record of stock prices shows, for instance, that there have been a number of intermediate periods in the longer term trend when it would have been desirable, to, in effect, "sit tight". The trouble, however, is that it is as difficult to recognize such times as it is to determine the points where it will be most propitious to make investments.

It is rather generally agreed that the present securities markets are greatly influenced by the action of the Federal Reserve Bank's efforts to keep inflationary trends under some control. The Federal Reserve has tried to achieve inflation control thru its control of bank credit and money supply. The point at which this control should be placed is most difficult to ascertain. There is no way of keeping inflation under control without pinching someone or some part of the economy.

The Federal Reserve has no control over the actions of the powerful labor organizations and their wage demands. The steel strike had its effect on prices of those items fabricated of steel. The coal unions have now received a substantial increase and certain of the railroad unions expect a substantial increase. These are a few of the increases.

The increase in cost of labor must be added to the cost of items which they handle or fabricate. This generally results in general price increase of cheapening of the dollar. The better grade common stocks usually compensate for changes in purchasing power of the dollar although this compensating action may lag somewhat as investors appraise events and their effects on earnings.

It is doubtful whether there has ever been a period when there are not a great many seemingly convincing reasons for the investor to do nothing while awaiting a clear business picture. To invest simply because there has been a substantial increase in values over a long period of time, makes even less logic than "sitting tight".

A good many investors employ what is known as "dollar averaging" to get around the difficulty of trying to select ideal investment periods. Dollar averaging means the investment of equal dollar amounts at regular periods over a longer period. More shares are acquired with the same number of dollars at low price levels and fewer shares when prices are higher. The investor gives up his right to buy only at the lowest level and also avoids the risk of buying only at the highest level. His average price will be somewhat between the extreme high and low level.

Mutual Funds offer a good medium for dollar averaging since most of them permit of regular periodic investment in a widely diversified list of securities under constant profes-

In commenting on progress of the economy of the United States, Dr. John Phillip Werneke, Professor of Business Administration at the University of Michigan, pointed out that if we were still producing goods at the same rate per hour as in 1850, we would need more than 300 million workers (we now have 65 million) on a 40 hour week to produce as much as we do now.

Orland Park: Fieldbrook 9-0211

Woman's Club to Meet

The first meeting of the new club year of Orland Park Woman's club will be held Wednesday, Oct. 17 at 1:30 p.m. at Community Center foundation.

Mrs. George Gee, chairman, American Home department, will present Dr. Wesley Lindquist, who will show colored slide pictures of Hawaii.

Mrs. Karl Ekberg, president will preside and would greatly appreciate the attendance of all members including the new members who have enrolled since the "Silver Tea."

Mrs. Ekberg attended the round table of the third district, at Ridge Park Field house, Sept. 25. A Salad Bar was served by the past president's of the district and reported a large attendance. She also reports that the sale of articles from the Occupational Therapy shop in Oak Forest, held at her home amounted to $650.00

The Auxiliary to the Volunteer Fire department of Orland

Park will meet in the village hall, Monday evening, Oct. 15 at 8 p.m. All members are urged to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hallinan and family of Wheaton, Mr. and Mrs. John McIntosh and family of Palos Park, Mrs. Gustie Hallinan and Louis Nicolai of Orland Park were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Robertson in Blue Island, Sunday.

Ron Creer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Winona Creer, celebrated his 18th birthday Sunday, with a party for his friends and relatives. Ron is attending Valparaiso university in Indiana and was home for the week-end. He returned Sunday evening.

Lt. and Mrs. Lawrence Brucas, and son were guests for a week of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Isom. Lt. Brucas is a nephew of Mrs. Isom and is stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga.

A group of 30 friends enjoyed a steak fry Sunday on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Isom. This group, each take turns once a month for get-together.

Mr. and Mrs. Ike Cleveland and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hewson enjoyed a two week's vacation fishing at Wadena, Minn. Ike's brother Bill has cabins and fishing boats at this resort where they stayed.

Mrs. Gertrude MacKenzie underwent surgery at Passavant Memorial hospital, Chicago. From last reports, she is doing nicely. A card would help cheer her while she is convalescing.

Henry Wolske, Sr., honored his wife with a birthday dinner at the Methodist church supper, Oct. 4. Attending were their six children and their husbands and wives and 11 grandchildren. Also Mrs. John Loebe, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Loebe, Mrs. Gordon Powell Sr., and son Gordon. The family gathered at their home for a visit after the dinner.

400 Boy Scouts and 83 adults attended the Fall round-up of Pokagon council at Camp Sullivan, 147th St. and Oak Park ave. Twenty-two Scouts of troop 251, Orland Park, left Friday evening, for the camp and returned home Sunday. Troop 251 was awarded 4th place, white ribbon, on number of points.

Thursday, Oct. 18 is the day for the rummage sale, sponsored by the WSCS of the Methodist church. Sale starts at 9 a.m. and will continue to 3 p.m. in the church basement. Anyone having material for this sale can bring them to the basement, Monday or Tuesday. Winter clothing is preferable to summer clothing at this time. Coffee "and" will be available.

The annual specialty dog show of the Doberman Pincher club of Chicagoland will be held Sunday, Oct. 14, 10 a.m. at the North Shore Farms. Sanders and Willow sts. in Northfield, Ill. Every dog lover is invited to attend. Mrs. Fred Kahl, 143rd st. in Orland has a champion male Doberman Pincher who is 6 years old and has entered many shows with honors. He responds to the name Marko.

David Morlock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold A. Morlock Sr. 14439 Highland ave., has entered the DePauw university at Greencastle, Ind. He is a junior in the College of Liberal Arts there.

The general tendency this year for farm costs to rise continues, but in the aggregate the rise is very slow, according to farm management specialists.

The man who starts to save and keeps it up shows sound thinking. You can take it for granted that he's a good risk, if you're planning to back him in business, give him a job, or marry him.

Merrily Schuessler Feature Singer In Youth Artists Series

Merrily Schuessler, charming and gifted lyric soprano, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Elmer W. Schuessler of 9448 S. Albany, Evergreen Park, will be the featured vocal soloist on the Oct. 22 program of the Lyon-Healy Young Artists recital series. The program will be presented in the Lyon-Healy Concert hall, 64 E. Jackson Blvd., Chicago, and will begin at 8 p.m. There is no admission charge and the public is invited.

This is the fourth consecutive season that Lyon-Healy has sponsored its Young Artists recital series. It is the firm belief of Lyon-Healy that the young artists of today—who will be the future concert artists of tomorrow—should be, and must be, encouraged in every possible manner. These recitals provide these young people, who are just beginning their professional careers, with an opportunity to be heard by good-sized and appreciative audiences as well as prominent managers and program chairmen. The Lyon-Healy Young Artists recital series is rapidly becoming one of the important outlets for young talent in the Chicago area. These young performers have been chosen for these appearances from a large number of applicants who have been heard by audition. They represent the very finest talent in this area, and are all artist-pupils of prominent teacher.

For her performance on the Lyon-Healy Young Artists Recital on Oct. 22, Miss Schuessler will share program honors with Gertrude Slager, pianist. For her first group, Miss Schuessler has chosen French art songs by Debussy, Staub, Chausson and Bachelet. Her second group will include contemporary songs by Schneefuss, Sowerby, Boyd and Warner. All of these contemporary composers, with the exception of Mr. Warner, are faculty members of the American Conservatory of Music where Miss Schuessler is studying. Miss Schuessler will be accomplished by Mitzie Mabie.

Merrily Schuessler has had all of her vocal training with Frances Ernest at the American Conservatory of Music. Her interest in singing was encouraged and stimulated by her mother, Gertrude Schuessler, who was a voice pupil of the late Mario Garboni. It is interesting to note this Miss Schuessler's mother gave her first recital in the Lyon-Healy hall. When Merrily Schuessler won the voice contest of the Chicagoland Lutheran Talent Quest at the age of 12, it was decided that her music education, which had been limited to piano, should also include voice. Miss Schuessler is now a senior at the American Conservatory of Music where, in her sophomore year, she was the winner of the junior voice contest and, in her junior year won the senior voice contest for appearance with the orchestra at the commencement exercises in Orchestra hall. She also was awarded the scholarship of Delta Omicron in voice at the Conservatory. Miss Schuessler has appeared as soloist in the golden jubilee pageant of the International Rotary club, was a member of the summer stock company at Fox Valley Playhouse, toured the central and southern states as a member of the Voca-lovelies, and played a one-week engagement at the Palace theater in New York. She has also appeared at the Chicago and Cleveland auto shows. Miss Schuessler is a soloist at Our Redeemer Lutheran church, and is a former member of St. James Cathedral choir. She is an officer of Gamma chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, national music fraternity.

Lincoln-Way Teacher Writes Article For Home Ec. Magazine

"Just—'Between Us,'" an article by Mrs. Mildred Foster of the Lincoln-Way home economics staff, will appear in the Oct. issue of "What's New in Home Economics." Mrs. Foster's article in a speech which was given at home economics teachers of the conference for beginning Illinois at the Abraham Lincoln hotel in Springfield in late summer. It emphasizes the place of beginning and experienced teachers in enlarging their places in the community.

Anglo-American Court Decisions Reflect Christian Influence

By Dr. John Wu
Paulist Feature Service
A court decision concerning a bottle of ginger-beer shows how much Christian influence there is in English and American law. In 1932 a woman and her friend went into a cafe in England, where the friend bought the woman a bottle of ginger-beer.

While she was drinking the content, the woman noticed a dead snail in the bottle. When she later became seriously ill from the part she had drunk, she sued the manufacturer of the beverage.

The "SNAIL'S CASE", as it is known, was finally settled in the House of Lords. Lord Atkin, in decision, made a practical application of Christian teaching to law. "The golden rule about loving your neighbor," he said, "in law means that you cannot injure him. You must take care to avoid acts that you can reasonably foresee would be likely to injure your neighbor."

The manufacturer was held responsible for the beverage which made the woman sick. The woman won her case.

The "SNAIL'S CASE" is an example of the teaching of Christ as part of our law. There are many other cases we could mention.

Justice Brown of the North Carolina supreme court ruled that no man could use private property merely to harm someone. The principle was founded, he said, on the word of Christ, "Love thy neighbor as thyself."

Anglo-American Jurisprudence - the common law of America since the eighteenth century and of England before the nineteenth century - is permeated with the spirit of Christianity.

Many times a judge has used words of Christ Himself and of His Apostles, especially St. Paul. Justice Carter in a marriage decision quoted St. Paul: "God hath made of one blood all nations of men." Chief Justice Stacey in decision referred to St. Paul as a great lawyer.

Christ does not enter the court-rooms of America as a law-giver Himself. But just as the judges of ancient China used to quote Confucius, American judges quote Christ. American law must be seen as influenced by Christianity.

Those who wish to make this country a secularistic nation do violence to the American tradition. The glory of the American legal system lies in the influence which common law has played in it. And common law is filled with the message of Christ.

Girl Scouts to Sell Calendars

The South Cook County Girl Scout Council announces that the 1957 Girl Scout Calendars will be sold within the Girl Scout Family during the month of October. There will be no house to house canvas.

The Girl Scout Calendar is published every year. Proceeds from this sale are used to purchase equipment for the Council Office in Harvey. Its main goal this year a 35 mm. movie projector.

Starting with December, 1956, the Calendar has thirteen color pictures of Girl Scout activities and includes a full 1958 Calendar on the last page.

The Council knows that many want a Girl Scout calendar, and while they cannot go out and solicit orders this year, calendars may be ordered from any Girl Scout Troop Leader, or neighborhood calendar chairmen.

Highlights Of Farm Life

By W. F. Whiteside
Cook Co. Asst. Farm Advisor

An international farm youth exchange delegate from India is visiting in South Cook county. Kumar Jadeja will be staying with the Herbert Kohl family during the month of October. Mr. Jadeja has been in the United States for six months and in Illinois for two months. This system of exchanges was initiated to help rural young people understand and appreciate the problems of similar people in other countries of the world. Over 400 American young men and women have visited 50 other countries, and the United States has welcomed a like number of young people in return. The program is dedicated to the belief that understanding the "way of life" of other people is the foundation of world peace. It is a pleasure to welcome Mr. Jadeja to Cook county.

Consumer income will probably remain at present levels and foreign demand is likely to remain stable. This has an effect on farmers expected income next year according to R. M. Finley, agricultural economist, University of Illinois. This information was presented at the fall outlook meeting. Mr. Finley expects soybean market prices to average 2.15 over the year. Some may go into the ASC program at the 2.22 loan price. Corn is expected to average near the 1.25 per bushel guarantee. Dairy cattle numbers have been decreasing. This fact coupled with increased consumer income should cause an increase in the income from the Dairy enterprise. Decreased farrowing should prevent hog prices from falling to last year's low. Some experts predict a $12 low price. A three percent increase in number of chickens raised will hold prices five to eight percent lower than last year. Farm costs will be 3 percent higher with steel goods somewhat higher. How does this affect your farm business?

The International Dairy show starts this week in Chicago. The big Dairy Parade down State Street opened the show. Betty Jean Stellwagen, Sharon Lauffer and Barbara Schilling, 4-H members of Tinley Park, took part in the American Dairy Association exhibit in the parade. Margaret Veldhuizen, 4-H federation treasurer, has made arrangements for the Federation to attend the dairy show.

Charles Fletcher reports progress in soil conservation work in the County. A large gully control structure is being built on the Fred Rauch farm at 167th St. and Route 45. The structure contains 12 yards of reinforced concrete. The overfall is 3 feet high and the notch is 20 feet long and 2 feet deep.

Milton Bettenhausen is shaping and seeding a 1400 ft. waterway. The waterway is tiled underneath to keep watercourse dry and crossable with farm machinery.

Many lawns of Merion bluegrass suffered rust damage this summer. M. B. Linn, department of plant pathology at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, says that Merion has been much more susceptible to rust than Kentucky bluegrass. Wet weather or heavy dews combined with temperatures of 70-75 degrees appear to be the most favorable conditions for the disease.

Rust first appears as reddish-brown spots on the upper surfaces of the grass leaves. Later the blades turn brown and die. There may be so many powdery rust spores that they color your mower when you cut the grass.

According to Rhode Island researchers, resistance can apparently be increased by supplying enough nitrogen to maintain vigorous growth. They recommend that you do not use phenyl mercury fungicides and crabgrass killers on Merion lawns. You may be able to keep rust damage down by letting the dew on the grass dry off completely before you water the lawn. Also, stop watering early enough in the afternoon to let the leaves dry before dew starts to form in the evening.

Zineb, dichlorone, maneb and cycloheximide appear to be the best protective fungicides to use to combat rust. Put any one of these fungicides on as a spray, and apply enough to cover the grass completely with the chemical. Use two or three sprays at 10-day intervals starting about July 15, or earlier if rust appears before this date.

Follow the directions for use given on the package label.

Why God Says No!

Lesson for October 14, 1956

A QUESTION often asked about the Ten Commandments is this: Why are they all in the negative? It all seems to be "Don't, don't." Does God hang chains on us to hamper our freedom? Is God more interested in stopping us from what we want to do than in showing us what to do? Why the emphasis on the negative? Isn't Christian morality, right living before God, a positive thing? Can a set of prohibitions be a solid base for life today?

Dr. Foreman

"Don't" Is a Useful Word

Let's look at this a little. For one thing, it must be remembered that the Ten Commandments, as they are called, were not invented by Moses or first revealed to him. We know that centuries before Moses, wise men were saying it already, and it is pretty safe to suppose that most people knew it,—namely that stealing and killing and adultery are wrong. The reason Moses gave the Ten Commandments was not that either he or God had just discovered them. These Commandments came out in their present form (or possibly a shorter form, enlarged later) for the benefit and guidance of a very primitive people, just out of slavery where they and their forefathers had been for generations. For people like that "Don't" is easier to understand than "Do." A little child can be saved from being hurt or killed just by learning the meaning of the little word NO. "Don't" is a useful word. It is simpler, too, to say "Don't" than "Do." Learning to do well takes time, and brains too. You don't have to learn to stop. You don't have to be a "brain" to stop doing wrong. So the Ten Commandments begin at the right end, the simple end. "Thou shalt not," or "Don't," in other words, is not the whole of what goodness means; but it is a good place to begin.

Under Control

Nowadays it is not popular to mention such words or ideas as discipline, self-control, temperance, or restraint; but these are good things in their place, and no life is good that ignores them. Doing what you want to do when you feel like doing it without asking anybody is a small boy's dream, but it is no way for a grown man or woman to live. This is another reason why so many of the Ten Commandments begin with "Don't." Brakes say "No" to a car, and a car without brakes isn't safe for a minute. Stakes say "No" to sprawling vines, but the vines are the better for being tied up. Pruning shears say "No" to grape-vines; but unpruned grapevines soon run down. Rails say "No" to train wheels; and when the wheels (so to speak) decide to go where they please, you have a wreck. "Doing what comes naturally" may be silly, sinful, even criminal. Impulses can be harmful and hateful. Instincts may be warped or exaggerated. The disciplined, self-controlled life is not a life of mere repression; but if there is no repression anywhere, if there is no response and obedience when God says "No," then life becomes a tangle like an untrimmed grape vine, a smash-up like a train that tries to cross a field without rails.

Every Don't Has a Do!

Every "don't" has a matching "do" of some kind. Thou shalt not steal means also, Thou shalt not waste property, Thou shalt conserve the earth's resources, Thou shalt respect property. When you see a farmer using intelligent methods to prevent or cure soil erosion, you may think about it, and he may not; but he is trying to prevent stealing or wasting the land on which future generations may depend. He is obeying the Eighth Commandment. But such a farmer shows that right living consists not merely in refusing to commit a certain small list of selected crimes; right living is not only not stealing land (for example) from the rising generation, right living includes also doing all one can to pass on to those who shall come after, land that shall have become—because wisely used—more fertile and fruitful than it was before. In the same way with all other commandments, every Don't! has a Do! Thou shalt not kill means not only committing no murder, shortening no life; it means contributing to life and health all we can, wherever we can. "Temperance" is not mere restriction, it is not life-denying; it is life-building.

LOW POINTS IN PRICES MAY BE PAST

The livestock situation is rounding some major turning points. The production of meats, which has increased each year for five years, is leveling off and will soon decline.

While meat output is leveling off, population and consumer income are continuing upward. Prices of meat animals were extremely depressed during most of the past 12 or 18 months. Now that production is lower, prices have improved considerably and further improvement is likely during the next several months.

The Northwestern University narcotics clinic in the Criminal Courts building has moved into a new permanent corridor of offices it has been announced.

The clinic is the only one of its kind in the nation, with Northwestern medical school psychiatrists and psychologists working directly with narcotic addicts at the Cook County jail.

Sheriff Joseph Lonman, greatly instrumental in the formation of the clinic, holds "great promise" for the clinic in dealing with narcotic addicts.

"The Northwestern clinics are making a signal contribution to our new emphasis upon rehabilitation in narcotic addicts at the Cook County jail," he said.

Dream House of Future Sounds Nightmarish

The house of the future, 10 to 15 years hence, will be built around a new concept—prefabricated service “cores”.

Jay Doblin, director of the Institute of Design at Illinois Institute of Technology, Chicago presents his ideas on the house of 1966 to 1971 in an article in the October issue of Popular Mechanics magazine.

Featured in the article is a house Doblin designed to illustrate the use of such mechanical, or service core units.

“These cores are the mechanical centers around which every house is built,” Doblin said.

He pointed out that every house has the equivalent of a food or kitchen core, power core, bath core, entertainment core, and communications core.

At present most of these mechanical parts are laboriously and expensively assembled at the home site, according to Doblin.

“These cores should, and will, be available as complete units which can be installed easily at reasonable cost,” he said.

In Doblin's house all ducts, conduit, plumbing, and the like would be placed in a trough around the house's perimeter. The cores which carry all mechanical equipment would be plugged into the trough making an extremely simple mechanical set up.

Taking a close look at the mechanical cores themselves, the bath core would be put in place with only one electrical and one water connection. It devotes a small area to a sink, water closet and storage.

The most luxurious section in the bath unit is the bathing and health center which has a reclining chair instead of a bath tub or vacant shower space. This section can be filled with water for a bath or used as a sit-down shower. In the ceiling are health lamps and oil sprays.

The design of the kitchen or food core is based on Doblin's belief that present kitchen appliances are designed for an obsolete method of food preparation. He feels that preprocessed foods are gaining such acceptance that soon there will be little else on the market.

Doblin's food core plan takes advantage of the fact that when a housewife uses preprocessed foods the need for mixing, peeling and blending is eliminated.

Doblin would contain all food, housewares, and appliances in the food core. The housewife could do all her work in a narrow band 18 inches deep and from 25 to 66 inches high.

Maximizing efficiency, the proposal provides for delivery men to load storage spaces and for maintenance men to repair power equipment from outside the house.

A planned by Doblin, the power core would require only water supply and electricity to keep the house in whatever atmosphere is desired by its occupants. It would contain a heat pump, ventilating equipment, an air purifier, and odor and germicidal control components.

The other mechanical cores in the house, for entertainment and communications, would integrate equipment for a variety of family activities. The entertainment center would afford facilities for home movies, television, radio, recorded music, and color slides.

Where more privacy is desired, the soundproof communications center would serve as a combination office-at-home and library. Here, all mail, business or personal records, communications equipment, and perhaps even a library stored on film, could be kept.
